Russians Get U. S. Warning

U. N. Delegate Serves Notice

PARIS — (UP) — Warren Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, warned Russia today that America will not give up the atomic bomb and that the entire western world will continue to rearm so long as the communist states live in their "secret world" behind the iron curtain.

Speaking on atomic energy in the political committee, Austin charged that the Soviet proposal for simultaneous destruction of the American atomic bomb stockpile and creation of an international atomic control system was a "maneuver."

It was designed, he said, to destroy America's bombs before—"and probably a long while before"—the rest of the world knows whether Russia has such a weapon.

KEEPS A-BOMB

"The United States does not intend to give up its atomic weapons except under a system of control sufficiently effective to guarantee that other nations do not have and cannot secure these weapons," Austin said.

Russia's Jacob Malik answered immediately and near the end of a long denunciation of American atomic energy policy said that "no fairy tales by Austin about closed doors and iron curtains" can show the Soviet plan unacceptable.

"Experience shows that when representatives of the United States have no real arguments then they conjure up spectres of propaganda, of closed doors, of iron curtains."

CHARGES 'CONSPIRACY'

He accused the United States and Britain of engaging in a "conspiracy of silence" on the Soviet proposal.

Austin said that as long as the communist states continued their system of secrecy, safeguards which other nations deem indispensable can not be made effective."

Austin continued:

"Communist states desire to live in a secret world of their own, behind which, for all we know, they may have prepared other people for war."

"We do not desire to live in such a world. That is the impasse in which the United Nations Atomic Energy commission finds itself."

Love Potion Trial Opens

MEDINA —(AP)— The murder trial of Clark Hill, 19, opens today and Prosecutor William G. Batchelder jr. says he will demand he be executed in the electric chair.

Hill is on trial for first degree murder before a panel of three judges in the death of Jennette Weimer, a car-hop from Mogadore.

The prosecution claims Hill killed her by piping poisonous fumes into his car from the exhaust pipe while it was parked on a lonely lover's lane. Inside the auto, they say, Miss Weimer lay unconscious from a sexually stimulating drug he slipped in her milk shake earlier in the evening.

Batchelder says Hill admitted all that in a signed statement five days after the girl died, April 10.

Judges of the panel are Windsor E. Kellogg of Medina county, Lynn B. Griffith of Trumbull county and Edmund H. Savord of Erie county.

10-Day Appeal Started

Two hundred and 91 Community Chest workers and their guests officially opened the city's annual campaign for $122,635 with a "kick-off" breakfast today at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The Chest campaign will continue for 10 days with Willis Carto as campaign chairman. Today's breakfast was sponsored by W. A. Brandenburg and the Brandenburg Chevrolet company.

Harold V. Tom, of the Zanesville Credit Bureau, was the principal speaker, using as his theme, "It Isn't Your Town; It's You."

He said that communities are the elongated shadows of the great people who live in them and added "when you go out into the community you will be casting your shadows before you."

Tom said there were two words which are synonymous in his vocabulary — opportunities and responsibilities. "Wherever you find one you find the other," he said. He told the workers they have the opportunity of serving their community and they are embracing their responsibility of doing so.

"Living in Mansfield is on a high plane, and the only measure of your appreciation for that living will be the measure of giving to the Community Chest," he said.

Tom called public apathy and indifference the No. 1 public enemy, in Mansfield, as in other cities throughout the nation.

CARRY MESSAGE

He told the group that they would be carrying a message when they went out to solicit funds. He said they would encounter three classes of people, the indifferent group, the chronic oppositionists, and the group which is seeking opportunities, and is ready to fulfill its responsibilities of giving.

Tom told the workers there were two things they should take with them when they go out to campaign. The two are an abundance of controllable enthusiasm and a spirit of teamwork, or cooperation.

"Follow the instructions of your campaign chairman and don't go out with apologies, he

'No Parking' Signs Go Up

Measures designed to speed the flow of traffic and promote safer driving conditions on South Main street and Park avenue west that will be put into effect this week, were announced today by Street Supt. E. W. Davis and Acting Traffic Commissioner Robert Garver.

"We're going to erect 'no-parking' signs on the north side of Park avenue east, between Hedges street and the railroad subway, and on the west side of South Main street, between First street and Glessner avenue," Davis said.

He explained that this will facilitate the flow of the heavy traffic south on Main street onto U. S. Route 42 and State Route 13, and east on Park avenue east onto U. S. Routes 30 and 42.

"Later this week, we are going to center-line Park avenue east from Central Park through the subway, and South Main street from First street south to the intersection with Lexington avenue.

"The state highway department is loaning us road markers for the work and the Richland County Automobile club is supplying us with special reflector paint," the street superintendent said.

The reflector paint contains pieces of ground glass that reflect headlight beams.

New Overtime Law Invoked

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government today starts enforcing the Supreme Court's decision boosting overtime pay for workers on less desirable shifts.

The Wage and Hour administration, which held off its enforcement order until the Supreme Court rejected a plea for another hearing, now has issued formal regulations based on the decision.

Briefly, these specify that employes who are receiving a special premium rate for working nights, holidays or Saturdays and Sundays, must have that extra differential figured in their basic pay for overtime purposes.

AT KICK-OFF BREAKFAST—Mansfield's 1948 Community Chest drive got off to a rousing start this morning when 291 volunteer workers and guests filled the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel for the Kick-Off Breakfast, sponsored by W. A. Brandenburg and the Brandenburg Chevrolet company. Following the breakfast the workers began their solicitation of the city for this year's goal of $122,635. News-Journal Cameraman Bill Graham caught part of the crowd in the above photo.

Campaigners Ease Off

Dewey and Truman Plan Next Moves

(By Associated Press)

President Truman set out today on the "non-political" leg of a two-day southern invasion as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey headed back to Albany from his midwestern campaign swing.

Mr. Truman arrived in Miami in the White House plane Independence for an afternoon speech to the American Legion convention.

A delegate himself, he said he would talk as President rather than as a candidate. Tomorrow, however, the Democratic nominee resumes his hunt for votes with two speeches at Raleigh, N. C.

Dewey too took a campaign breather. He spent Sunday at his mother's home in Owosso, Mich., then left early today aboard his special train for a series of New York speeches en route back to the governor's mansion. He will rest in Albany tomorrow and then go to New York City for speeches Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Addressing a homecoming rally at Owosso Saturday night, the Republican nominee said one of his objectives is to "bring an end to the idea that government is their master and really make government a servant of the people again."

At Christ Episcopal church, where Dewey attended services with his wife and mother yesterday, souvenir leaflets were distributed. These disavowed any partisan politics on the part of the church but said:

"According to the various polls and the political prophets, Gov. Dewey will be chosen to receive the highest honor that this nation can confer on any citizen." A prayer for his guidance and protection followed.

1,800 Tickets Sold For Ball

More than 1,800 tickets had been sold this morning for the 15th annual Policeman's ball tonight at the Coliseum, Patrolman Robert Pittinger, in charge of ticket sales, announced.

Twenty-five patrolmen rolled up their sleeves last night and gave the Coliseum a thorough cleaning, sweeping the dance floor, arranging chairs and tables and constructing a band stand for tonight's event.

Lee Barrett's 13 piece orchestra will provide the music for the event which provides funds for Safety Town, the school boy patrol, child safety education and the Policemen's junior baseball team.

BUS STRIKE OFF

CANTON —(INS)— Fears of a Canton bus tie-up were dispelled today with the signing of a new contract between the Canton City Lines., Inc., and the AFL-City Bus Drivers association.

Mansfield Second Coldest

Mercury Hits 24 In Winter Prevue

Topcoats and blankets were brought out of the closet last night as Mansfield's temperature dropped to 24, second lowest in the state.

Cold winds followed intermittent rains during the day to bring the mercury down to below freezing. Ice formed on puddles left by the rain. Flowers and vegetables were killed by the freezing temperatures. Car owners hurried to the nearest gas stations for anti-freeze.

Only one city in the state, Springfield, had a lower temperature than Mansfield's. The thermometer registered 23 there.

With the colder weather came light snowflakes in some sections of the state. The snowfall appeared briefly at Chardon, Cleveland and Elyria but the snow melted as it touched the ground. Low in Cleveland was 37, highest among last night's low temperatures.

While the sun came out today, it failed to warm the almost wintry winds. Temperatures tonight were expected to drop again to equal last night's killing freeze.

Throughout the nation, the mercury dropped, with the lowest registered at Cheyenne, Wyo., where temperatures were only six degrees above zero yesterday.

Snow piled to a depth of an inch and a half within an hour at Mt. Summit, Pa., Oakland, in western Maryland, Elkins, W. Va., and Beckley, W. Va., also reported their first snows of the year. Slush on the highways made driving hazardous at Uniontown, Pa.

Weather experts explained a great mass of air has been gathering for several weeks over the cold pine woods of Canada. During the week end it moved south.

Crash Kills Legislator

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Political circles today mourned the death of Mrs. Margaret Barkley, Republican member of the Ohio House of Representatives who was fatally injured in an automobile accident in Ashtabula county.

Mrs. Barkley, who was a candidate for re-election, was injured when the auto in which she was riding, driven by her husband, John W., went out of control and upset in a ditch one mile west of Colebrook late Saturday.

She was taken to Trumbull Memorial hospital in Warren, where she died yesterday. She had suffered a crushed chest, and fractures of her collar bone, right arm, pelvis and ribs.

Her husband received cuts on the face and was released from the hospital after treatment.

The legislator's death immediately raised the problem of replacing her name on the Ohio ballot for the Nov. 2 election. The GOP executive committee last night in Cleveland prepared to call a meeting to select another candidate.

Turns Down Postal Bids

U. S. Asks New Offers On Improvements

The Public Buildings administration has rejected bids on remodeling the Mansfield post office and asked for new bids to be opened Oct. 26 in Washington.

Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said today he was informed of the rejection of bids, opened several days ago in Washington, but no explanation was given to him.

Remodeling plans include enlargement of the loading platform on the south side of the post office, installation of a mail chute and an elevator, remodeling of the boiler room to provide new storage space for custodial supplies, and improvement of the vacant lot east of the building so it can be used for a parking lot.

It was estimated the program would cost about $20,000.

Ford said letters are being mailed to prospective bidders in Mansfield. Bids will be received at the office of the division engineer, Public Buildings Administration, Federal Works Agency, until 10 a. m., Oct. 26.

Mystery Blast Shakes Plane

BERLIN—(AP)—A United States C-54 transport plane supplying blockaded Berlin was shaken by a mysterious explosion today shortly after taking off from Berlin's Gatow airport.

The pilot said at first he believed a Russian anti-aircraft shell had burst near his plane.

U. S. and British officials, however, said they believed the plane was jolted by the concussion from a ground explosion which occurred so near Gatow airfield that it rattled windows.

Historic Plane Comes Back to U. S.

LONDON —(AP)— The Wright brothers' biplane "Kittyhawk," first power-driven airplane to accomplish flight, came down from the ceiling of Kensington Science museum today for dismantling and shipment Nov. 8 to the Smithsonian institution in Washington.

The "Kittyhawk" has been on display here since 1928 when it was lent by the late Orville Wright for an initial period of five years.

Wright sent the plane to England after a long dispute with the Smithsonian institution as to whether the "Kittyhawk" actually was the first plane to fly. Its return to the United States is in accordance with the wishes of Wright who in 1943 informed the museum he wanted to withdraw the machine later.

Truman Says Peace Still Attainable

Aims Legion Talk At Russian Stand

MIAMI, Fla. —(INS)— President Truman warned today that "a dark fog of distrust" blocks U.S.-Russian agreement and it will be "a long while" before the world is organized for a "friendly family of nations."

The President firmly rejected, however, the idea of war as the only way out of present international differences and pledged that there will be "no chip on the shoulder of America."

Mr. Truman told the American Legion annual convention that rival powers can exist peacefully. He declared that world leaders must dispel the distrust now confusing the approach to peace.

HITS 'DISTRUST'

The President said that "so long as there is so much distrust," little headway can be made toward settlement of the conflict between the western powers and Soviet Russia.

Mr. Truman said his recently-abandoned proposal for sending the Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow was not intended to undermine the United Nations but to improve the atmosphere surrounding UN peace talks.

He explained that the Vinson mission, which was cancelled on advice of Secretary of State Marshall, would have sought Premier Stalin's "cooperation in dispelling the present poisonius atmosphere of distrust" between the East and West.

"The government of the United States utterly rejects the concept of war as a means of solving international differences."

He told the Legionnaires.

"Our policy is not now and never has been directed against the Soviet union. On the contrary we recognize that the peace of the world depends on increasing understanding and a better working relationship between the Soviet Union and the democratic nations."

Four Injured, One Killed In Detroit Blast

DETROIT —(AP)— An explosion in a compressor station of the Michigan Consolidated Gas company at suburban Melvindale early today cost one life and injured four other employes.

A company spokesman estimated damage at between $250,000 and $500,000.

Lawrence K. Rickey, vice-president and manager of operations for the company, identified the dead man as W. A. Blascak, 26, of Allen Park. He said Blascak was killed instantly.

Windows in a two-mile area surrounding the scene were shattered and the business section of Melvindale was reported to be a shambles of broken glass.

IRVINE NAMED PREXY

MARIETTA — (AP) — Dr. W. Bay Irvine, 55, was named president of Marietta college today by the board of trustees. Dr. Irvine has been serving as chairman of an administrative committee of the college since 1947. He had been dean of the college since 1942.

Fighting Flare-up Continues

Israeli Forces Push Into Desert

PARIS—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council today was called to meet in special session tomorrow to discuss the new flareup of fighting in Palestine.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate and October president of the council, ordered the session after conferring twice with Dr. Ralph Bunche, the interim Palestine mediator. Bunche said earlier he would ask for such a meeting if Israel refused to accept a three-day cease fire order in the southern desert, where Israeli and Egyptian troops are fighting.

Buche said he still is trying to get an agreement for a three-day truce.

The special session of the council means it will meet twice tomorrow, once at 10:30 a. m. on Palestine, and again at 3 p. m. on the Berlin crisis.

PUSH INTO DESERT

Meanwhile reports from Tel Aviv said Jewish troops in night actions stormed and captured heights dominating the road through the Negev in defiance of United Nations cease-fire orders.

An Israeli communique said large scale air activity also continued.

Israel has thrown a top commander into the battle for control of the Negev desert area where reports indicated heavy casualties as Jews and Egyptians struggled fiercely.

Military censorship blacked out several key details of the fighting, even barring use of the Israeli commander's name and an order of the day to his troops throwing light on the scope and aims of the attack.

CLAIM SUCCESSES

The fighting was reported centered around Gaza, main Egyptian military base in Palestine and capital of the newly-proclaimed Arab government of the Holy Land.

The Israeli command said it had penetrated Egyptian troop bases but would not reveal their exact location.

Israeli government spokesmen said the purpose of the Israeli attack was to smash open the road to Jewish settlements in the southern Palestine desert.

That road crosses the Egyptian supply and reinforcement road to Beersheba, Hebron and the southern arc of the Jerusalem front. If the Jews won full control they would cut the Egyptian supply and reinforcement route for much of southern Palestine.

Both newsmen and U. N. observers were barred by the Jews from going within 50 miles of the fighting.

De Gaulle Forces Gain

PARIS—(UP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle's rally of the French people captured the third largest bloc of delegates to the electoral college selected to choose seats in the Council of the Republic, incomplete returns from yesterday's balloting showed today.

Communists lost ground in the balloting which took place in 37,983 municipal councils throughout the country. The radical independents took first place with 21,178 delegates. De Gaulle's party selected 12,998 delegates and the communists elected 10,249.

There was no direct popular vote. But the 100,011 delegates elected to the electoral college will vote into office on Nov. 7 members of the Council of the Republic, France's upper house of parliament.

C-54 Crashes, Three Killed

FRANKFURT—(INS)—A. U. S. airlift C-54 Skymaster crashed near Frankfurt today, killing its crew of three.

Air force officials said the crash occurred a few miles east of the Rhine-Main airbase. The plane was on its way back from an "operation vittles" flight to Berlin.

The accident took place as the C-54 prepared for a landing.

Senator's Amnesia Alarms Family

Wagner Found Safe In Restaurant

NEW YORK —(AP)— Sen. Robert F. Wagner (D-NY) suffered an attack of temporary amnesia during the week end, when he disappeared from his son's Long Island estate, says his physician.

Dr. William C. Carhardt examined the ailing 71-year-old senator shortly after he was found early yesterday at a Manhattan restaurant, one of his favorite eating places.

Wagner had been the object of a widespread police search for nearly 12 hours after he wandered away from the home of Robert F. Wagner jr. at Islip, N. Y., about 3 p. m. Saturday.

Early yesterday, the senior senator from New York and father of the New Deal Labor Relations act entered a restaurant near 85th street and Lexington avenue and ordered a sandwich and a cup of coffee.

Waiters, previously alerted by police concerning the senator's disappearance, notified authorities.

The son appeared at the restaurant and took his father back to the family home at Islip, where the elderly man was examined by Carhardt.

Carhardt said the senator had suffered "temporary amnesia" but was "none the worse for his little jaunt into the city."

Poll Shows Fringe of Wallace Supporters on Magazine Staff

NEW YORK—The Ladies Home Journal announced in its October issue, and rather too bloody roguishly, I thought, that in a secret poll of its editorial staff seven of the 59 editors had voted for Henry Wallace, the candidate of the communists and the Kremlin for President of the United States.

The wag who wrote this little confession did his-her musclebound damndest to pass it off as a merry jape, but it struck me as a piece of calculated insolence to the stuffy, high-suburban tycoons of big business, as Fui Pi-Yu Luce has been calling the sources of the biggest advertising revenue these last 25 years.

After all, these tycoons put up the money for the beautiful color effects in the LHJ every month and for the salaries of those seven pranksters who are going to vote the Moscow ticket.

This magazine is one of the Curtis Publishing company jobs and it has been a loudspeaker for the great Gabbo since just after the first coronation of H.I.M., Moosejaw the First, R. I., on March 4, 1933.

She also runs a variable measure of daily prattle six times a week in a list of newspapers, but her journalistic talent rose and fell with the election returns and so, more and more often these days, you find it wrapped around the goiters and electric belts, as we used to say, or just don't find it at all.

I have been a professional, boy and man, since 1910 and I have never seen worse copy in print than that for which the old girl grabbed her rake-off all those years, and the authors of such novelty goods included Jess Willard, Battling Nelson and Eddie Cantor.

Willard had days when he was comparatively pretty good, but the Ladies Home Journal has continued to run this stuff as a leading feature, which is okay except that now and again the editors in fairness to the customers, ought to print a list of her communist-front and party-line connections and activities and give us a tell about some office intimacies.

What has been the total amount paid this great journalist since she enjoyed her attack of literary talent right after the election of 1932?

Who selects the convenient questions that she answers, or, sometimes pretends to answer but cleverly doesn't answer? Such as the one about the deed for a plot at Warm Springs that Moosejaw signed, forever excluding his dear friends, the Negro race, from ownership or even occupancy. She stalled and fooled around on that one and may have seemed to answer it but never did. She couldn't.

This announcement about the poll of the "editors" of the Ladies' Home Journal said that 29 voted for Dewey, but that Truman and Wallace were tied at seven votes each. Nine hadn't yet decided, which meant that some or all of them might vote for Bubblehead; one wasn't voting and six were away.

Still, seven out of 43 who declared themselves, about one-sixth of the editors of this magazine which lives on the advertising and circulation revenues of the capitalistic industry and society of the United States, were frankly committed to vote for the candidate of those who constitute the fifth column.

Two Killed In Area Auto Accidents

Mishaps In Ohio Take Nine Lives

Nine persons died in Ohio as the result of traffic accidents over the week end, two of them in the Mansfield area.

A third accident in this area involved Mrs. Faye Schlupe Smith, teacher in the Gahanna schools, who is in Pomerene Memorial hospital, Millersburg, with a fractured pelvis.

The dead are Homer N. Pritchard, 28, of Van Wert, and Lansing Merchant, 56, of Columbus.

Pritchard died in Bucyrus City hospital Sunday of injuries suffered when his car collided with a farm wagon near Upper Sandusky Saturday.

Hospital attaches said his injuries included a skull fracture and multiple lacerations of the head and face. His brother, James, with him in the car at the time of the accident, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Lansing Merchant was killed when his car collided head-on with a Wonder Bread company truck on U.S. Route 42, five miles north of Ashland at 11:30 p. m. Sunday.

Merchant was driving north when he attempted to pass a car and ran into the truck. Both he and Marlin Lutz, 47, of Akron, driver of the truck, were pinned in the vehicles. Merchant was dead when extricated and Lutz was taken to Samaritan hospital, Ashland, where it was found he had suffered face and leg injuries and shock.

DOG INJURED

A dog in the trunk of the Merchant car suffered a broken shoulder.

Merchant was a bar-tender at Topper's Grill in Columbus. He is survived by his wife, Edith. His body was taken to the Denbow-Bear funeral home in Ashland to await the coroner's verdict. Later it will be removed to the Whittaker funeral home in Columbus.

Mrs. Faye Schlupe Smith, a teacher in Gahanna schools, and wife of Neal Smith, an engineering teacher at Ohio State university, was injured at 9:40 a. m. Sunday, 1 mile east of Brinkhaven when their car collided with one driven by Sam Netherland of Cincinnati, as Netherland attempted to pass another car on a hill, police said.

With the Smiths in the car were Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schlupe and Mrs. Mary Kline, who is deputy clerk of courts of Holmes county. The five were on their way to the Ohio Caverns when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Smith today remained in Pomerene Memorial hospital. The others were treated at the hospital for minor cuts and bruises and released.

A freak accident caused the death of James E. Belknap, 36, of Mantau and his wife, Belle, 34. They were involved in a minor accident and when Mrs. Belknap fainted her husband attempted to carry her across the road to safety. They were hit by a truck. Mrs. Belknap died instantly and here husband died later in Ravenna hospital.

Dignity Marks Session

6 Cases Heard By Judge

With new dignity and following the procedure outlined by the state, the first municipal court session in the new courtroom on the third floor of the city building was held today at 9:30 a. m. Six cases were heard.

Approximately 30 persons were on hand as the judge stepped into the room.

Paul Ritchie, court clerk, stood and announced:

"The municipal court of Mansfield, Ohio, is now in session, with Judge H. H. Schettler presiding. As your name is called, stand and enter your plea."

Prior to the judge's arrival, Ritchie explained to those present that following accepted courtroom procedure, everyone would be required to stand when the judge entered the room.

Work on the new courtroom began in January and was completed more than a month ago. Heating facilities were not completed at that time, and Judge Schettler declined to hold court in the new room until they were complete. City council has held two sessions in the court room.

Richard Park, 556 Springmill street, won the dubious distinction of being the first person bound over to the grand jury from the new municipal courtroom.

PLEADS INNOCENT

He pleaded innocent to charges of attempted breaking and entering, waived preliminary hearing and was held under $2,000 bond.

He is charged with attempting to break into the Saltzgaber Distributing company, 32 South Adams street, Saturday night.

Detectives said Parks' arrest clears up attempted breakings and enterings at Hart's Dairy store, 509 Springmill street; Isaly Dairy store, 465 Springmill street, and Young's Implement store, 435 Springmill street, all on the night of Sept. 25.

William Lohr, 193 East Third street, was fined $75 and costs and lost his right to drive for six months for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Everett R. Roberts, Ashland, was fined $75 and costs for having physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Chester Keeser, North Main street, was fined $100 and costs on an intoxication charge and was sent to the Columbus workhouse to work out the fine.

James A. Watkins, Miller street, was fined $50 and costs for resisting an officer and $10 and costs for drunk and disorderly conduct. He pleaded innocent but was found guilty of the former charge.

Joseph Marfia, 525 West Townview circle, was fined $15 and costs for unsafe operation of an automobile, and Danial Wigodowski, Columbus, was fined $5 and costs for crossing the yellow line.

Says Experts Fear War Outbreak In Countries of Central America

From notes of October 10th: "The Washington experts fear a war may break wide open from the Mexican border to the Panama Canal. A general Central American war—Honduras and Nicaragua vs. Guatemala and Costa Rica. An underground Caribbean Legion, heavily armed and composed of men of all nations, is out to fight the pint-sized dictators into their tombs."

★

The Caribbean Legion is made up of political refugees from Santo Domingo's Dictator Trujillo: of the Honduran Oppositionists and by Nicaraguans who are prepared to die in an effort to remove the shade of Dictator Anastacio Somoza from their homeland. The Legion is well armed—not with shotguns and machetes, but with machine guns of all types, bazookas, light artillery and tanks. It is an organization sworn to unseat the Caribbean dictators, and the international lineup is as follows:

★

Supporting the Legion are Cuba, Venezuela, Guatemala and Costa Rica. Their targets are Trujillo of Santo Domingo, Somoza of Nicaragua and Carias of Honduras. They know all about the opposition of the U. S. State Dep't to armed movements but they say that these dictators cannot be removed by other means. And they add, the right of free men to demand a free, honest, democratic gov't did not terminate with the armed movement by the American colonists against the British in 1776.

In February of this year a newspaperman named Otillo Ulate defeated the government candidate, Dr. Calderon Guardia, in the presidential elections in the Republic of Costa Rica. On March 1, the Costa Rican Congress, in which the balance of power was held by the Communists, declared the elections to be null and void. Violence broke out in the streets, the Communists under Manuel Mora endeavoring to terrorize the people into meek acceptance of this piece of political grand larceny. In the meantime, a well-to-do young plantation owner named Jose Figueres disappeared from San Jose, the capital, with a handful of his friends. Figueres, a graduate of M.I.T., also took with him his beautiful young wife and their two children. Senora de Figueres, by the way, is the former Henrietta Boggs of Birmingham, Alabama.

In seven weeks of fighting on the rain-swept mountain slopes and in the green jungles, Figueres and his army of Liberation killed 1,500 of the government's Communist-led forces. This open warfare in which planes and modern automatic weapons were employed by both sides took place at a distance of one hour's bomber flight from the Panama Canal! At one point, fighting was in progress on both flanks of the Big Ditch. Remember the Bogota Rebellion which caught the State Dept. flat-footed?

Probe 2nd Gate Crash

Pennsylvania railroad officials today continued an investigation of the second gate crashing at the East Fourth street crossing during the week end.

The investigation followed up the report of the gate crashing given to police at 3 a. m. Sunday by Myron King, 403 Wayne street. King told officers he and his brother, William King, had struck and broke the west safety gate at the crossing because the lantern on the gate was not burning.

King said he did not hear the warning bell at the crossing.

However, E. J. White, railroad detective, told police that a train was using the crossing at the time and that the lantern was lit. White said King swerved to avoid striking the train after breaking through the gate.

White added that 24 hours earlier a green pick-up truck was reported to have crashed both gates and hadn't stopped. The gates had been in repair only a few short hours when King crashed into the west gate.

Miss Yuncker Stricken at 86

Miss Ann Margaret Yuncker, 86, an employe of the old Aultman-Taylor company for 40 years, died Sunday morning at the Shyrock rest home in Springfield township after a lingering illness. Her home wasat 154 Pleasant avenue.

Miss Yuncker, who lived in the same house where she was born, was an accountant for the Aultman Taylor company. She was a member of the St. Paul's Lutheran church and was the last member of her family.

Several nieces and nephews survive.

Friends may call at the Fineflock funeral home where services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m., by Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of the St. Paul church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Death Claims Frank Krebs

Frank B. Krebs, 59, of 888 West Fourth street, died early Sunday at Mansfield General hospital after a lingering illness.

A life-long resident of the city, Mr. Krebs was born in Mansfield, Aug. 20, 1889, and maintained his own sheet metal working shop.

Surviving are six sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, Mrs. Irene Oberlin, Mrs. Genevieve Holmes, Mrs. Lee Remy, Miss Harriet Krebs, all of Mansfield; Mrs. Fred Kaylor of Ashland, and one brother, Joseph A. Krebs of Columbus.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Jones Memorial by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First English Lutheran church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Farmer Reports Chicken Theft

R. F. Banks, Mansfield, R. D. 6, reported to sheriff's deputies last night that 82 chickens, including 75 pullets, were stolen from his chicken house while the family was at church Sunday morning.

Air Force Asks For Volunteers

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The Air Force today asked for 10,000 veteran-volunteers to "keep 'em flying" on the western European front of the cold war.

It said ground crew replacements are needed "immediately" to support the big B-29 force stationed in Britain and the "operation vittles" airlift into blockaded Berlin.

100 Pledge Help In Church Campaign

By NITA BRANSON

One hundred Mansfield and Richland county men and women, consecrated to the task of creating unity in Christian activity throughout the area, officially launched the Richland County Council of Churches and Christian Agencies at the First Presbyterian church last night.

It was the vanguard of what church and Christian agency leaders hope will result in a Christ-motivated program, practically applied, in all phases of Christian living.

While last night's crowd was smaller than anticipated, it was, as Rev. Matthew G. Madden, president, put it, "a power potential for Christian good."

Purpose of the council was explained by Rev. Madden. This purpose includes three phases.

It has been formed to provide an agency through which laymen, ministers and executive directors, as representatives of churches and Christian Agencies, may unite in fellowship, cooperation and service; to provide an interdenominational agency for cooperation in Christian education, social action, worship, evangelism and world Christian fellowship; to provide a voice that will uphold and proclaim the Christian standards and values within the community and bear witness to the essential unity of our faith.

Those purposes are contained in the constitution, copies of which have been mailed to all ministers and church people of the county, Rev. Madden said.

DR. LONG SPEAKS

A challenge to "Christian Thinking" which would help members of the council get together to spread God's truth in the community was brought to Mansfield last night by Dr. R. Lincoln Long, pastor of the Collingwood avenue Presbyterian church of Toledo.

Music for the service was provided by the members of the junior choir of the St. John's Evangelical church, led by J. C. Klinger, and Miss Mabel Zehner, organist of the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Helen Heston played for the two choir anthems.

Presiding with Rev. Madden last night was Rev. Paul Beighley, pastor of the Lexington Presbyterian church, vice president of the council.

Former Shop Owner Dies

Mrs. Estella Grauer Willard, 68, of 288 Marion avenue, died early today at People's hospital after a one-week illness. Mrs. Willard was the former owner of the Mansfield China shop on West Fourth street.

Born near Bellville on April 9, 1880, Mrs. Willard resided in Cleveland for a time and returned here seven years ago.

She is survived by her brother, Stanley A. Grauer; a niece, Miss Stella Reed and a nephew, Paul Reed, all of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the Jones Memorial in charge of Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

16-Year-Old Drives 80 MPH

A 16-year-old Ashland boy had his driver's license suspended for 60 days for speeding this morning when he was cited before Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer. The boy was arrested at 8 a. m. today by sheriff's deputies. He had been charged with going 80 miles an hour on U. S. Route 42, north of Mansfield.

In juvenile court Saturday a 16-year-old Shiloh girl, taken into court for violating a probation agreement. The agreement had required her to attend school regularly, to stay away from drinking places, and had required her parents to report on her conduct.

Judge Cramer ordered the girl to find another home after deciding her present home was not conducive to her proper conduct. Juvenile court is trying to find her a home better fitted for her upbringing.

Cleveland Browns Keep Record Spotless

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK — (UP) — College football came down out of the stratosphere today as the pass, punt and pray addicts discovered the almost forgotten fact that you also can win games by running with the ball.

The block and tackle business in recent years has looked like basketball without the dribble. Most youngsters didn't get a chance unless they could make Slingin' Sammy Baugh look like he wore handcuffs over mittens. Any coach who saw his grandmother toss her ball of knitting wool clear across the parlor tried to get her to play tailback.

Such phrases as "swiver-hipped" and "scatback" almost disappeared from memory. But then came Saturday, and the revolution. And of all the major games in only two did passing swing the balance.

Penn, trembling on the brink of defeat, was saved in the last 32 seconds by its air arm when Bob Sponaugle made an end zone catch which beat Columbia, 20 to 14. And Ohio State's Pandel Savic went up and over to lead the Buckeyes home ahead of Indiana, 17 to 0.

★

BUT ALMOST everywhere else it was those beloved "hipper-dipper halfbacks" and those "pile-driving, keg-legged" ball carriers who came out of limbo to carry the mail. Look 'em over:

Cadet Gil Stephenson rambled to three touchdowns as Army downed Fighting Harvard, 20 to 7.

Blond Jackie Jensen, the California Comet, averaged 14 yards per try leading the Golden Bears to a 42-0 conquest of Oregon State.

Hosea Rodgers, whose bull rushes and first touchdown kept North Carolina undefeated, 14 to 0, against North Carolina State.

Leo Koceski engineered three touchdowns for Michigan in its 28 to 0 walloping of Northwestern.

★

PASSER JOHNNY RAUCH, rewrote the script, legging to two touchdowns in Georgia's 22-0 win over L. S. U.

Ferd Madherny, whose nine-yard scoring plunge upset Wisconsin for Yale, 17 to 7.

Duke's Billy Cox, whose 82-yard touchdown run conquered Maryland, 13-12.

Pete Stout, smashed for three touchdowns in TCU's 27-14 win over the Texas Aggies.

Jeff Fleischmann, roared to three touchdowns as undefeated Cornell smothered Syracuse, 34 to 7.

Fullback Frank Kuzma, whose power smashes set up Minnesota's 6 to 0 triumph over Illinois.

Bob White, the big bird for Stanford with three touchdown runs which upset UCLA, 34-14.

Eddie Price, who smashed 26 yards for the touchdown which clinched Tulane's 20-7 win over Mississippi.

★

OREGON END Dan Garza, who roared through that U. S. C. line to block a punt and score the safety which won an 8 to 7 thriller.

Tennessee's Hal Littleford, who ran Alabama crazy in a 21-6 triumph.

Bob de Moss, Purdue passer, went to the quarterback sneak for the touchdown which beat Iowa, 20-13.

And Lee Nalley, who ran a punt back 88 yards for the touchdown which set Vanderbilt afire in a 26-7 triumph over Kentucky.

It seems improbable, despite this sudden discovery that games can be won by running the old apple, that passing henceforth will be ignored. But it was just a little refreshing to get down to earth once more.

'47 Winners May Repeat

(By United Press)

The American Hockey league season may be only a week old today, but there were definite indications that last year's division pennant winners—Cleveland and Providence—might repeat again this season.

The Clevelanders, now on an unbeaten streak of 31 games, won their fourth straight game of this year from New Haven last night, 6 to 5. Providence, king pin in the east, upended Washington, 4 to 2.

In other games played last night, Buffalo won its first game, edging Hershey, 3 to 1, and Indianapolis defeated St. Louis, 3 to 1.

Rain Falls During Win Over Bills

By HOWARD BABCOCK

CLEVELAND — (INS) — An old familiar saying, heard often during the baseball season, popped its head up again today — only this time in Cleveland football circles.

"The big one is yet to come," Coach Paul Brown announced after his champion Browns defeated the Buffalo Bills, 31-14, before 28,054 soaked spectators yesterday at Cleveland stadium. "We've only got four weeks to get ready for San Francisco."

Yesterday's contest appeared to be just another game for the All-America conference champs, who hiked their unbeaten string to 15 games.

JONES GOES OVER

In the early minutes of the first period, Edgar Jones went into motion to his left, received an expertly aimed pass from Otto "The Arm" Graham, and galloped 35 yards for a touchdown. Lou Groza kicked the first of four extra points and the champs were on their way.

They scored on two other aerial plays. Mac Speedie being the target both times, on a three-yard plunge by Marion Motley and a 45-yard field goal by Groza.

Although rain dampened the field before and during the tilt, it didn't bother Graham as he gave a fair demonstration of why he was the league's most valuable player last year.

Otto threw 27 aerials and completed 11 for 189 yards. Two went for touchdowns and two figured prominently in another scoring drive.

The latter part of the afternoon, however, Graham was overshooting his mark or the Clevelanders might have piled up a larger total.

The low ceiling didn't seem to bother Buffalo's passing attack either, for both the Bills' scores were made on passes. The first was thrown from Jim Still to Alton Baldwin and the second from George Ratterman to Lou Tomasetti.

RATTERMAN BUSY

Ratterman, who was demoted to the second string in a shakeup by Coach Red Dawson last week, didn't get into the game until the second period. Once on the field, however, the former Notre Dame star gave the Browns' second line a busy afternoon. He completed 13 of 24 efforts for 174 yards.

Speedie, still ranked as the league's best pass-snatcher, snared six passes from Graham and one from Cliff Lewis. The Lewis aerial, which was thrown into a driving rain, was good for a touchdown in the final period of the game.

Buffalo's first touchdown was scored on a pass from Still to Baldwin after a fumble by Motley had given the Bills possession of the ball.

A 44-yard pass from Ratterman to Chet Mutryn was the big factor in the Bills' 85-yard drive to their other score in the final period. A Ratterman to Tomassetti pass was good for eight yards and Buffalo's final six points.

GROZA KICKS ONE

The Browns hiked the count to 17-7 before the opening period ended. Motley made amends for his fumble by returning the next kick-off 34 yards and then for 24 more on two more tries around ends. When Graham failed to find a receiver, Groza came in to kick the field goal.

A series of passes from Graham to Speedie and a running play by Edgar Jones set the stage for Motley's three-yard plunge to pay dirt.

Graham threw two passes to Speedie in the third period, the second, a 15-yard fling, good for a touchdown. Lewis' toss into the end zone in the last quarter completed the scoring.

Cards Rip Giants, 63-35; Bears Win Fourth, 28-0

(By United Press)

The Chicago Cardinals' grim battle to hold their championship of the National Football league today was responsible for three new records, set during the Cards' 63 to 35 win over the New York Giants Sunday.

The Cards found the Giants' defense practically non-existent in the battle at the Polo Grounds, the wildest-scoring tiff in league history.

Ray Mallouf, subbing for the injured Paul Christman, paced the Chicago attack by completing 14 out of 18 passes, four of which went for touchdowns. Chuckin' Charley Conerly of the Giants also threw four touchdown passes and plunged over for another score but they weren't near enough. The Cardinals' victory, their third in four starts, kept them close to the pace-setting Chicago Bears, western division leaders.

BREAKS RECORDS

The Cardinals-Giants' combined point total of 98 wiped out the old record of 87 and the 14 touchdowns broke the previous mark of 12. Pat Harder, who kicked the Cardinals' nine extra points erased the former standard of eight.

George Halas' Chicago Bears remained the only undefeated team in the league by winning their fourth straight, 28 to 0, over the Detroit Lions.

It marked the fourth successive defeat for the outmanned Detroiters, who played without their ace halfback, Bullet Bill Dudley. The Lions kept the score at a respectable 14-0 at the half but Chicago pushed across two more tallies in the fourth quarter on short plunges by George Gulyanics and Joe Osmanski.

Steve VanBuren and Bosh Pritchard spearheaded the Philadelphia Eagles to a convincing 45 to 0 triumph over the Washington Redskins. The Eagles moved into first place in the eastern division by the victory and manufactured 28 first downs to tie a league record.

STEELERS UPSET

Boston's underdog Yanks upset the Pittsburgh Steelers, 13 to 7. Ralph Heywood, an end, scored Boston's first touchdown when he picked up a Steeler fumble and ran 18 yards while Roy Zimmerman's passes sparked the Yanks to the deciding tally.

The Green Bay Packers, who had been fined for indifferent play, bounced the Los Angeles Rams, 16 to 0. Bob Waterfield of the Rams broke the fourth league record of the day by getting off an 88-yard punt while another circuit mark was tied when seven of Waterfield's passes were intercepted.

FORT SMITH, Ark. — (AP) — Frank Stranhan, Toledo, O., yesterday, won the hard Scrabble Country Club Invitational, defeating Jack Geiss of St. Louis, 7 and 6.

Citation, Big Money Horse, Takes It Easy

NEW YORK —(AP)— Rolling in wealth and praised as the greatest racer of the century, Citation prepared today to head for Baltimore and another easy $25,000 before taking a well earned vacation.

The sensational Calumet farm champion of champions is scheduled to make his final appearance of the season in the $25,000 winner-take-all Pimlico special a week from Friday.

That will give him plenty of time to rest up after his latest success, a brilliant but easy romp over an international field of eight rivals in the $111,700 Empire City Gold Cup Saturday at Belmont Park.

24TH WINNING TRIP

It was Citation's 16th win in 17 starts this year, and the 24th trip to the winner's circle in 26 races during his dazzling two years of campaigning.

Never out of the money, Citation ran second to stablemate Bewitch as a two-year-old and second to Saggy last spring. He trounced both of them soundly on other occasions.

His gold cup victory boosted Citation's all-time bankroll to $820,250. If this $664,570 was earned this season, a sum unprecedented in turf history.

Ohio Motorcycle Races Rained Out

The Ohio Tourist Trophy motorcycle races, rained out yesterday at the Mansfield Motorcycle club track, will be held here at a later date, according to Dow Mitchell, secretary of the club.

Mitchell announced this morning that the date for the state championship races will be set early this week at a meeting of the state association.

Two Meetings

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Beulah Park will return to its regular two meeting racing schedule next year instead of a single fall performance, President Robert J. Dienst said today.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Benny Hogan Pockets Big Golfing Check

GLENDALE, Cal. —(UP)— Ben Hogan, the mechanical golfer from Hershey, Pa., pocketed $2459 first money today for his victory in the Glendale open and said he wouldn't be playing any more competitive golf this year.

"I've got a new home down in Texas that I haven't seen since I bought it," he said. "I'm going there now and get acquainted."

He said he'd be back in the golfing wars when the 1949 tour starts with the Los Angeles open next January.

Hogan leads Lloyd Mangrum, of Chicago, by $1209 in their race for 1948 money-winning honors, and Mangrum said he would compete in the Miami open in December in an attempt to pocket the earnings title. Mangrum now has $34,338 to Hogan's $35,547.

Bantam Ben broke the Oakmont course record yesterday with an eight-under-par 64 in the final round to win the Glendale open with a 72-hole score of 69-68-74-64—275, but even with his blazing final round he edged Mangrum by only two strokes.

Ashland Big Car Race Meeting Is Postponed

Tyger Grid Hands All In Good Shape

Senior high's steadily improving football team got down to its first day of practice for the Massillon game today with all hands reported in good physical condition.

Coach Augie Morningstar reported this morning that little Tommy Tucker, injured in Friday's Springfield game, would work out with the team. He said that the diminutive sprinter would be able to go at top speed by Friday. Examination revealed Tucker suffered only bruises at Springfield.

All others are in top shape, including George "Monk" Russell, who was scheduled to get into a practice suit today. Russell, first string center last year, has been out with a gashed leg he picked up in practice before the opening game.

Morningstar said the pivot man ran some last week to get into shape and should be ready to go Friday despite his long layoff. Russell's work should help the Tygers no end, particularly on offense.

TALKS TO BOOSTERS

Morningstar is scheduled to address a meeting of the Tyger booster club at 7:30 tonight at the school. He will divulge some of the information picked up by four scouts who watched Massillon take a 14-0 whipping from Alliance last week.

He will also go over some of the highlights of the Springfield game and answer questions concerning strategy used in that contest.

Four tickets to the Massillon game will be given away at the meeting. Co-feature of the program will be an appearance of the classy marching Tyger band.

Tyger fans, somewhat downcast with the knowledge that Mansfield has never beaten Massillon in 26 meetings, were cheered somewhat by a bit of fact revealed today.

Alliance's win over the Tigers was the first time it had beaten them in 16 games. So . . .

Massillon had an 11-9 first down edge over Alliance but the law of averages which had stumped the Aviators before this time took care of the mighty Tigers. Massillon was outrushed in the game, 211 to 190, but gained 60 yards to 43 on passes. The Tigers completed only two of ten aerials, however.

Pacific Coast May Breathe Easier Now

CHICAGO — (UP) — Perhaps football fans of the Pacific Coast conference could be thankful today for the "escape clause" contained in the agreement between the PCC and the Big Nine concerning the Rose Bowl.

At the moment, Michigan's mighty Wolverines seem much the best team in the Big Nine.

But the Wolves can't represent the conference in the bowl because they played there last New Year's day and the "escape clause" provides that no team shall play in the bowl two years in a row.

REACH PEAK

The Wolverines reached their peak Saturday against Northwestern for a 28 to 0 victory which was so convincing that none of the sports writers who saw the game figure on them losing another game all season.

Two sophomore backs, Leo Koceski and Chuck Ortmann, took the places of Bump Elliott and Bob Chappuis, stars of the 1947 Big Nine Rose Bowl champions. And Michigan's complicated offensive lost nothing by these substitutions.

With Tom Peterson at fullback and senior Pete Elliott at quarterback, Ortmann and Koceski went through all the fancy ball handling the 1947 team featured and they looked every bit as capable. Maybe a little more so.

Mansfield Pin Teams Look Good

Mansfield bowlers gave a good account of themselves in travelling league competition yesterday by winning five of six games reported.

PD's Bar took three straight from a Bellevue team in the Women's North Central Ohio league while Zahn's Construction whipped Cady's Restaurant of Newark, two of three, in the men's NCOT loop.

Farrell Hipp paced Zahn's Construction with a 547 series, followed closely by Hal LeMunyon, 546, and Dale Cleckner, 535.

Zahn's had two other week-end matches, winning Friday and losing Saturday in matches rolled as part of the opening celebration of new alleys at Galion. Friday, Zahn's blasted Dearman's Transportation, 2578 to 2460, while Saturday they fell 61 pins behind Sportsman's Grill of Galion. The match, now standing at 2664 to 2603 will be completed with three games Oct. 30 at Richland Recreation.

Marty Dye, with a 159-187-189—535 series paced PD's Bar to its league victory. She was trailed by Kate Warga, 485, Lil LeMunyon, 473, Helen Kemle, 471, and Arlene Peters, 448.

Six Cage Loops Will Operate At Friendly House

At least six boys basketball leagues will be in operation at the Friendly House this winter, athletic director Mike Wentz announced yesterday.

Four of the loops are now in the process of organization and interested teams may contact Wentz at the Friendly House. These leagues are the Northern grade school league for boys up to 13; the Junior league for boys under 15; Class B, age limit 16; and a Senior league ranging up to 19 years of age.

Junior Optimist and Ranger leagues will be organized later, Wentz said.

Free boxing classes are also being conducted at the Friendly House from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. daily. Paul Carbetta and John Miller are giving lessons to a dozen boys under 16. The first boxing show of the winter will be held sometime during November.

Eleven College Grid Teams Unbeaten, Untied

Michigan, Notre Dame Head List

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK—(AP)—Michigan and Notre Dame, sailing along on the longest winning streaks in college football, were back in their familiar roles today as the leading candidates for national honors.

The list of unbeaten, untied teams numbers 11, still an imposing array, but the schedules seem to favor these two mighties from the Midlands who finished last season 1-2 in the Associated Press poll.

The East, cradle of the sport it can no longer dominate, has four of the unblemished representatives in Army, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Penn State, but they scuffle among themselves in a round-robin that is likely to leave all of them scarred.

In better shape are the other unbeatens—Georgia Tech, North Carolina and Clemson from the heart of Dixie, and California and Nevada from the far west.

THESE DON'T MEET

The southern teams fortunately don't run into each other and wind up their schedules against sectional foes. California plays a strict Pacific Coast card the rest of the way. Nevada, the little team that leads the nation in offense, doesn't meet opposition of the size to warrant much national consideration.

Two of the unbeatens collide this coming Saturday when Army meets Cornell at Ithaca. They have won four games each, yet remain something of an unknown quantity.

Michigan's Wolverines graduated from the question-mark class Saturday with a resounding 28-0 conquest of Northwestern. They proved they could still get along without all-America Bob Chappuis and Bump Elliott. They just gave the ball to a lad named Leo Koceski and he scored three touchdowns.

It was Michigan's 18th in a row.

LONG STREAK

Notre Dame also turned in a professionally poised performance in subduing Nebraska, 44-13. Nobody seemed to miss Johnny Lujack as the Irish went through their 22nd game without a defeat.

North Carolina's big, talented team—No. 1 in the AP poll last week—fell short of expectations when it ran up against an aroused family rival, North Carolina State. The Tar Heels put on a last half push to get a 14-0 victory.

California's Bears were impressive in scoring their fifth straight triumph—a 42-0 rout of Oregon State—but it'll take tougher meat to show just how good the Bears really are.

Army, led by Gil Stephenson, trounced Harvard, 20-7. Penn squeezed out a 20-14 last-minute victory over Columbia. Penn State won over West Virginia, 37-7. Cornell smothered Syracuse, 34-7. Penn and Penn State were unbeaten last year, too.

TECH DAZZLES

Georgia Tech, operating one of the cleverest ball-handling teams in the country with its razzle-dazzle T, chalked up No. 4, whipping Auburn, 27-0. After Florida this week, Tech meets Duke, Tennessee and Alabama on successive Saturday—a mean row. Clemson was idle.

Nevada kept its slate clean by licking St. Mary's Gaels in a Sunday game, 48-20.

Mississippi, the southeastern conference champion, and Maryland, which went through three games without having its goal line crossed, were Saturday's upset victims.

Ole Miss was whipped by a resurging Tulane, 20-7, while Maryland bowed to Duke, 13-12. Detroit lost its first game to Miami (Fla.), 6-0.

DEFENSIVE STAR—Joe Romano, former Mansfield Senior high school All-Ohio end, is the outstanding defensive flanker on the country's top football team—North Carolina. The 200-pounder played one year of varsity ball at John Carroll and has been on the NC squad for three seasons. He also played basketball for the Tygers.

Overconfidence May Hurt State Against Wisconsin

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio State Coach Wes Fesler, mindful of his Buckeyes' defeat by an in-and-out Iowa team, was hopeful today that it wouldn't be the same thing with Wisconsin next Saturday.

Fesler today faced the same situation that existed at the start of practice for Iowa. The Bucks were fat and sassy from two resounding victories over Missouri and Southern California, and nobody could tell them that Iowa wouldn't fall over and play dead.

After the Iowa defeat Fesler said it was the result of mistakes, overconfidence and lack of spirit.

Wisconsin's record is even worse than Iowa's. The Badgers were trounced by Indiana, which in turn was an easy mark for Ohio State. Saturday the Badgers committed the most thoughtless crime of all from a Big Nine standpoint—they lost to Yale of the Ivy league, 17-7.

WINS ONLY ONE

Wisconsin Coach Harry Stuhldreher, in his 13th year at Wisconsin, has won only one game in four. At the Yale game a group of fans held aloft a sign immediately behind the Wisconsin bench which said: "Goodbye Harry." It was reported that many of the players were angered by the display, and it may be that Stuhldreher could fan that anger to a white heat by the time the Badgers reach Ohio stadium next week end.

Of the Indiana game Fesler said: "I knew before the game that the boys were going to win this one. That spirit of theirs was the deciding factor."

This week Fesler will be trying to preserve that spirit.

Jack Gaubatz Gets 584 Pins For Hermans

Jack Gaubatz paced the Sons of Herman bowling league over the Colony alleys last night as he posted a 193-211-180—584 series.

Andy Schweitzer wsa runner-up with a 210-144-225—579. His third game was easily high enough for a single game honors for the night. Other good marks included a 567 by Duke Weber and a 538 by the consistent Jake Streitmater.

The league-leading Deadheads racked up the high total of the night 2424, and the top single game, 841.

★

Bertha Young set the pace for the Daughters of Herman as she posted a 183 snbgle game and 441 series. Flo Waldman also went over the 400 mark as she recorded a 423. Helen Wilhelm had 384 and Eve Morrison 373.

★

E. Blackburn led the Mansfield Tire Owl league Saturday night with a 570 series put together on games of 179, 234 and 157. John Ibe was runnerup with 545, while Joe Kuelling had 517, John McGregor, 512 and C. Windson, 507.

Polly Blasts Babe

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(AP)—Polly Riley of Fort Worth defeated Babe Didrickson Zaharias, 10 and 9, in the finals of the Women's Texas Open Golf tournament.

Church Loop Court Plans Are Released

Announcement of plans for the YMCA Church basketball leagues was made today by John W. Fike, physical director, and W. D. Corcoran, chairman of the "Y" physical program.

The Senior church league will open Dec. 7 or 8 while the Junior loop will play its first games Saturday, Nov. 27.

According to a new policy agreed to by the "Y" and the churches, only members of the YMCA may compete but there will be no entry fee or admission to the games.

Seven teams are already entered in the Senior league and eight in the Junior circuit.

St. Matthew's, last year's champs, are in the Senior fold along with Park Avenue Baptist, First Methodist, Ontario Community, United Brethren, First Christian, Four Square Gospel.

Junior teams are Grace Gospel, Central Methodist, First Christian, Mayflower, St. John's, First Methodist, First Lutheran, and Park Avenue Baptist. This loop will play a split season with first and second round champions meeting for the title.

Senior league teams will be given the opportunity to stage basketball carnivals on Saturday night, featured by a pair of games.

Mort Passes Bogus Checks

HARTVILLE, Mo.—(CP)—Mort Cooper, former major - league pitching star, was expected to surrender today to authorities at St. Louis where he is wanted on a charge of passing bad checks.

Sheriff James Baker said he had picked up Cooper last night at his Norwood home and that Cooper had admitted cashing $300 in worthless checks in St. Louis. Cooper was released when St. Louis officials accepted his promise to surrender today.

Baker said Cooper had expected to sign a contract with an unnamed baseball club and make the checks good when he cashed them in August.

Lemon and Paige Each Allow Pair

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Cleveland teammates Bob Lemon and Satchell Paige pitched a five-inning exhibition standoff against each other yesterday.

Lemon allowed two runs, four hits, while Ole Satch gave up two runs, three hits. Lemon's all stars then went on to win, 4-2, from the Kansas City Royals. A crowd of 7,462 watched the Wrighley Field exhibition.

Only three Mansfield athletes are listed on the latest Ashland college grid roster. They are: Dominic Musille, Russ Cooke and Alex Demyan.

Joe Weiden In Second

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Joe Weiden, Austrian heavyweight, makes his second showing in the United States tonight when he goes against Walter Hafer of Washington, in a 10-rounder at Music Hall.

Weiden, winner of 24 of 25 European bouts, is managed by former heavyweight Champ Jack Dempsey.

San Francisco Wins Eighth Over Yankees

(By United Press)

Until the San Francisco forty-niners and the Cleveland Browns clash Nov. 14 the all-America football conference appeared destined today to be topped by the two teams.

That's the way it stood as San Francisco picked up its eighth victory in a row yesterday as the Cleveland, the defending champion, was annexing No. seven.

ALBERT RIDES HIGH

Frankie Albert, as usual, paced the rollicking forty-niners to a 21 to 7 triumph over the New York Yankees while the Browns rode over a sea of mud to a 31-to-14 victory over the reorganized Buffalo Bills.

New York gained a moral victory, at least, in holding San Francisco to less than 30 points for the first time this season, but Albert was his usual self and that paid off. The deft little T-master passed 20 yards to John Strzykalski for one score and dove over the line for another.

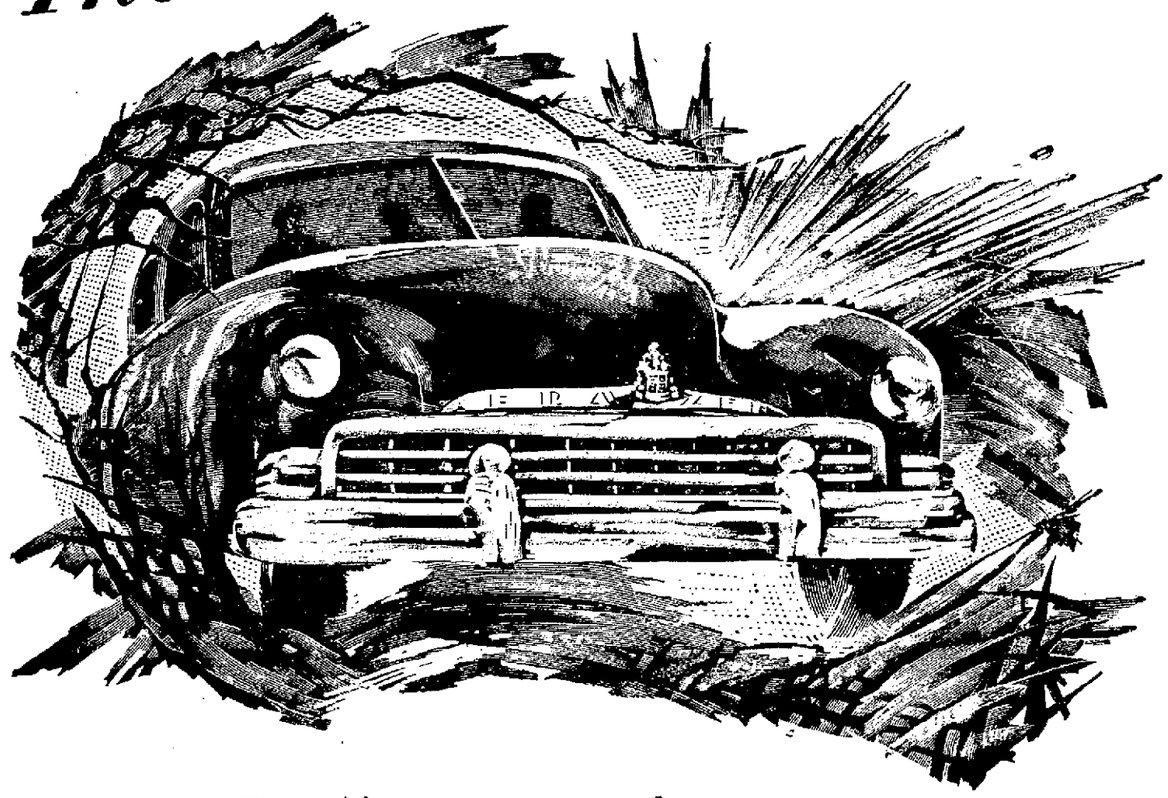
The 1949 FRAZER



Trailblazer-of cars to come!

Once in a blue moon the stylists and engineers outdo themselves. They create a car that goes beyond today and sets the pattern for cars of the future. This is what they have done with the FRAZER for 1949!

Low, sleek and differently handsome it is the trailblazer in style of cars to come. Its exclusive colors and fabrics have made the world's leading fashion designers fall in love with it. They call it "the dream car".

The same car, the FRAZER for 1949, has even won the hard-to-win hearts of the test drivers who must relentlessly punish a car mile after mile for weeks on end. They say the Frazer makes such driving no punishment for them. Its driving ease and riding comfort "make 600 miles a day a breeze," they say.

There's a thrill waiting for you at your dealer's tomorrow. With 100 new features, improvements and refinements, the 1949 FRAZER is ahead of its time . . . out front —trailblazing the way for all the cars to come. First to break clean and scrap tradition, the cars from Willow Run have done it again. Because unlike other "new" cars built since the war, they've road-proved their dependability—2 billion miles worth! Value-proved to a quarter-million justly proud owners. See and drive the new FRAZER Tuesday! It's at your dealer's. Kaiser-Frazer Corporation, Willow Run, Michigan.

Bucyrus Chest Drive Opens

BUCYRUS — With a goal of $18,000, Bucyrus Community Chest campaign gets under way tonight with a "kick-off" dinner at the YMCA at which Robert Milar, public relations director for the Firestone Rubber company of Akron, will be the principal speaker.

Pledge cards have been distributed to more than 200 workers and first reports on the campaign progress will be made later in the week. Edwin E. Gearhart, Bucyrus high school principal and campaign chairman, announced today.

The industrial division, under the chairmanship of Paul Downend and Jacque Jones, has a quota of $8,500; the commercial division with Edwin Norton, B. L. Spurlock, Charles Bauer and Robert Caldwell as chairman, $5,300; the residential division with Mrs. Glen Butterman as chairman, $3,300, and the public employes division headed by City School Supt. D. C. Baer, $900.

Group Attends State Session

BUCYRUS —A large representation of Bucyrus women will be present at the 55th annual convention of the Ohio branch, International Order of King's Daughters, which opens Tuesday in Newark.

All seven local circles will send representatives and several Bucyrus women will participate in the three-day program. They include Mrs. Ray Westenearger, county union chairman; Mrs. John Faulkner, a state trustee; Mrs. Evalona Glassner, matron at Maplecrest, state King's Daughters home for children here, and Mrs. Edward Hughes, a former state president of the organization.

Takes New Post

LOUDONVILLE — John Solomon who recently was graduated from the Cleveland College of Mortuary Service, is now employed at the Peoples funeral home. Solomon, who was formerly employed with Peoples funeral home, has his funeral director's license and is waiting a report from the state board on the embalmers' license examination he took last week.

Worth Repeating

Located southwest. This home has been well planned by the builder. When you enter this home you immediately get a feeling that this would be a grand place to live. A good kitchen planned large enough for your dinette, comfortable living room and 2 nice bedrooms with plenty of closet space. All hardwood floors. Automatic gas heat. Full basement which is partitioned. Full attic which could be easily made into 2 living units, heat pipes all ready, fully insulated. You can move right in and be the first to live in this home. This was built by one of our best contractors and I can highly recommend this to be the best buy on the market today. Has been F. H. A. appraised. See it today.

"Two Family Lexington Avenue

Owner lives in California, and says dispose of my property consisting of two apartments with two bedrooms each. This property is in good condition every way excepting that it needs to be painted. The apartments are entirely separate and have nice sized rooms, with two baths and every modern feature. Full sized lot and a mighty nice location on one of our nicest streets. No. 1 apartment rents for $55.00. No. 2 apartment rents for $47.50. Excellent tenants who want to remain in property and we can recommend them both as strictly first class tenants. This property will gross about 11% on the investment after all expenses. The number is 125 Lexington Ave. Price $10,500. Think of it here is a nice two family property at less than you will pay for a good single. Drive by, look it over. Don't molest tenants but call Clyde Kessel, Monday for appointment.

Licensed Nursing Home

This location has 2½ acres of land with a home that has been approved by State Medical Board. You can have 25 bed patients as arranged now. You need not be a doctor or nurse to own this home. Present income is great, but after seeing this setup and its possibility to expand into a hospital easily it will immediately fascinate you. One of the owners is sick and must sell. This is fully equipped and ready to take over. Can arrange terms. Phone for your appointment, no details discussed over the phone.

U. N. Acts to Get Europe More Food

Would Increase Production There

GENEVA —(AP)— An agriculture committee is to be set up within the United Nations economic commission for Europe to help the development of food production in Europe.

The economic commission for Europe comprises the United States and all U. N. member states in Europe. Non-members, including Eire, Italy, Switzerland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary take part in the work of the commission, but have no vote. Spain alone is barred under a U. N. decision excluding the Franco government from all U. N. activities.

The new agriculture committee will open new aspects of the economic life of Europe to the economic commission. More than 20 other committees and sub-committees, whose membership includes both communist and non-communist nations, have been working since July, 1947, for the economic revival of Europe in many fields, ranging from steel to the production of ceramic insulators.

The principal task of the agriculture committee will be to encourage collaboration between the governments of Europe in the agricultural aspects of the overall problem of European reconstruction and development."

If the committee follows a tradition set up by the other technical organs of the commission in the last 16 months, all its decisions will be reached with the unanimous consent of both the communist and non-communist delegations.

The new agriculture committee is expected to recommend far-reaching international measures to promote European food production and decrease Europe's dependence on food imports from the dollar area. A recent survey by the economic commission secretariat showed the European continent could become almost entirely self-sufficient in food if all underdeveloped areas were made fully productive.

To encourage such development, the committee will tackle critical agricultural bottlenecks in Europe, such as shortages in farm machinery, fertilizers, pesticides and refrigeration equipment.

Volumes Cover Colleges, Baseball, and Churches

New Reference Books Offer Variety

In addition to the business an industrial reference books recently added to the Mansfield Public Library, the reference department also has added another group of books on various subjects, Miss Anna Evans, reference librarian, announced today.

The following books are now on display in the reference department:

"The Home Book of Proverbs, Maxims and Familiar Phrases," is compiled by an Ohio author, Burton Stevenson of Chillicothe. This book traces the development of proverbs, maxims, and familiar phrases which are in common use and points out the variations which have developed over a period of years.

"A Hog on Ice," by Charles Earle Funk, lexicographer, is a collection of more than 100 picturesque phrases used in daily speech. It gives the origin and meaning of the phrases.

"American Universities and Colleges" is a revision of the standard work published by the American Council on Education. It shows the recent development in education and gives detailed descriptions of colleges and universities in the United States.

"American Junior Colleges" is the second edition published by the American Council on Education. This book gives a compilation of information and interpretations of the new and rapidly growing junior college.

BLUE BOOK READY

"College Blue Book: A Standard Work Reference on Higher Education in the United States and the World" is the fifth edition of this work. It gives basic facts, many of them in chart form, for the comparison of higher educational institutions in the United States, and, in less detail of the world.

THERE'S GUIDE, TOO

"Guide to America: A Treasury of Information About Its States, Cities, Parks, and Historical Points of Interest," edited by Elmer Jenkins, is a compact handbook giving the points of interest in each state.

"American Yearbook of Churches," published under the auspices of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

"Official 1948 National Baseball Annual, Rules, Teams, Photos," published by the National Baseball Congress of America.

"Ulrich's Periodicals Directory: A Classified Guide to Selected Lists of Current Periodicals, Foreign and Domestic," edited by Carolyn F. Ulrich.

Greece Blames Reds for Murder of Newsman

4 Charged With Death Of Polk

Two In Custody As Probe Closes

SALONIKA, Greece—(AP)—The Greek government says a top communist killed George Polk, correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting system, last May.

Topping off a five-month investigation of the slaying, the government yesterday named three others charged with complicity in the murder. Two of them are under arrest.

One of the persons under arrest was quoted as believing the murder was planned by the Cominform (communist international information bureau) to discredit the Greek government abroad.

NAMES KILLER

The government said the actual shooting of Polk was done by Adam Mouzenides, member of the central committee of the Greek Communist party. He was alleged to have shot the correspondent in the back of the head as Polk lay blindfolded and trussed in a boat in Salonika bay last May 8.

The other three charged with complicity in the murder were Evangelos Vasvanas, still at large; Gregory Staktopoulos, communist newspaperman, and his mother, Anna, both under arrest for the past two months.

All four face charges of conspiracy to murder Polk. Mouzenides and Vasvanas also were charged with illegal possession of firearms and carrying arms, punishable by death under present Greek military law.

Staktopoulos and his mother will be tried in Salonika. The other two may be tried in absentia.

Former County Treasurer Dies

MILLERSBURG — Waldo C. Klingler, 53, former Holmes county treasurer, died unexpectedly at 1:30 a. m. Sunday at his home here.

Mr. Klingler was born in Millersburg, the son of Crist and the late Clara Klingler. A bachelor, Mr. Klingler's father, is his only survivor.

He was county treasurer from 1929 to 1933 and had served as deputy prior to that time. After 1933, he was associated for a number of years with his father in the Variety Store here. He was a member of the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

He and his father had been making plans to go to Florida, their annual custom, when Mr. Klingler became ill.

Services will be held from the St. John's church Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Lynn Tschurdy officiating. Burial will be in the Millersburg cemetery. Friends may call at the Elliott funeral home.

Community Chest Seeks $122,635

added. "A community is made up of all the people who live in the entire community, and all of them have a share in community projects," he concluded.

Tom's address was followed by the presentation of the division chairmen by Carto.

Ruhland D. Isaly, co-chairman of the Special Gifts division, reported that while only one-third of his division had reported to date, already one-half of the goal of $16,264, or $8,991, has been pledged. This represents an increase over last year's contributions of 8.2 per cent, he said. There are 23 teams represented on the Special Gifts division.

Another report from Special Gifts division was turned in by Mrs. Tom Ford and Mrs. Leopold Adams, whose quota of $913 was oversubscribed by $77. They are the first team to turn in a complete report, it was learned.

QUOTA TOPPED

Previously, team 13, composed of Mrs. Paul F. Cropper and Mrs. Robert F. Horn has reported subscriptions of $680, an increase over their quota of $635, with contacts still to be made.

Today's reports also revealed that the Ohio Textile Products company had pledged its quota of $256, the first of the Small Industries division to go over the top. The team of Paul M. Eliot and Ray Calene have contacted less than one-half of their prospects, but have already subscribed $1,310 of their $1,885 quota.

W. E. Slabaugh jr., president of the Community Chest, reminded the workers that the Community Chest method of raising money is the most economical method there is.

He urged them to tell contributors that 97 cents out of every $1 contributed goes to the 12 Red Feather agencies. Expense of the campaign amounts to only three per cent of the goal.

He added that if each agency conducted its own campaign, the expense would range between 15 and 25 per cent of the total amount raised.

Slabaugh said he thought the yardstick set up for giving was a good one. Hourly workers are asked to give four hours' pay and salaried workers are asked to give seven per cent more than they did last year.

"If the response to this yardstick is complete, we will realize our goal of $122,635," he said.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," and the benediction by Rev. Matthew Madden. Msgr. R. C. Goegel of St. Peter's Catholic church gave the invocation.

Miss Janet Kelly was chairman of the breakfast.

Eleven members of Girl Scout Troop No. 24 and eight members of the Senior Blue-Tri club ushered at the breakfast.

The Girl Scouts were Sondra Barnett, Edythe Browarsky, Donna DeYarmon, Rosemary Jones, Joyce Miller, Patricia Schroeder, Patricia Sites, Sally Smith, Faye Stahl, Sandra Theaker, and Maralyn Grabosky.

Those from the Blue-Tri club were Tina Taylor, Ellen Bromfield, JoAnne Butler, Thelma Stover, Pat Ealy, Leora Markley, Pat Lorentz, and Emill Stephen.

Table decorations were by the Agnes Paulsen Garden club, headed by Mrs. Robert Coe. Her committee included Mrs. Robert Murphy, chairman; Mrs. W. R. Martin, Mrs. Harold Williams, and Mrs. J. H. Herring.

Tests Called Successful

Seven amateur radio stations in Mansfield, operating under simulated emergency conditions, formed part of a nation-wide system of emergency communications yesterday and Saturday, when they went on the air and sent messages to all parts of the country and Canada.

James R. Anderson, emergency coordinator of the American Radio Relay league, said today the program was carried out successfully in this area.

Amateur operators here handled more than 25 emergency messages. Their sets were emergency-powered by their own generators, in practice for a time when a real emergency might require transmission of messages without the aid of commercial power.

The messages sent from this area included one sent to Red Cross headquarters in Washington In the message the Mansfield Emergency corps, which conducted the test, pledged its support to and continued cooperation with the Red Cross in case of emergencies or disasters

Bike Tag Sales Climb

The sale of bicycle licenses passed the 1,000 mark Saturday as 224 Woodland and Prospect school area youths registered with the police department, bringing the total to 1,085

Paul Martin, police identification officer, said the sale would have been much greater, but the heavy rain that fell shortly after noon caused the sale to slacken.

"We'd sold 185 at noon and would have gone way over the 200 mark if the rain hadn't started," Martin said.

"This week we'll register students in the Carpenter school region plus any bicycle owners in the Hedges, Woodland, Prospect, Newman, Bowman and West Fifth school areas who were unable to appear at the announced time."

Martin added that junior and Senior high school bicycle owners who live in the Carpenter school area, plus any of the areas of the other seven schools previously registered should report for registration Saturday.

Run-Down Battery Starts Free-For-All

A low automobile battery got John Whitacker of Willard into a fight Sunday morning

Whitacker said he parked his car at Sixth and Adams street and left the motor running as the battery was low He said when he returned he saw a man reaching in the car and turning the motor off He said he asked the man to leave the car but that the intruder refused and drew a knife after striking Whitacker with his fist

Whitacker said three other men appeared when he fought back and that he ran away, finally escaping from the four men. His car was not damaged.

A New Hospital Plan Sweeps Mansfield

Entire Families Are Protected for Sickness, Accidents and Childbirth

Cash for Hospital Room, Surgeon Fees, Medicine, X-rays, etc.

Information Free

If you live in Mansfield or surrounding territory your family can now be assured of cash if any member should go to the hospital on account of sickness, accident or childbirth. Take advantage of this new low cost hospital plan—complete and free information is yours for the asking. Just send your name and address on the coupon below. No obligation.

Cost Is Small Only a Few Cents a Day

The members of your immediate family can be protected under a single contract on which you make only one small payment each month. Only a few cents a day for the average family.

Hospital Room and Board Paid

This Colonial Hospital Plan is one of the most liberal ever devised and pays: (1) Cash for room and meals in hospital for any member of the family; (2) Cash to help pay the fees for the doctor or surgeon; (3) Cash for various hospital extra charges, such as operating room fee, medicines, X-rays, anesthetic, ambulance service, etc.

Pays Whether Disability Occurs at Home or at Work

This new plan is backed by the old reliable Colonial Insurance Company which has paid thousands of dollars in claims to people just like you. Remember, you get cash for hospital expenses whether the disability occurs at home or at work.

Choose Your Own Hospital and Your Own Doctor

This plan does not limit you to any certain hospital or any certain doctor. The money is paid direct to your hospital, or your doctor or you, whichever you direct. So you can pick your own hospital and your own doctor. Your contract identifies you at any hospital. This plan provides other benefits too and anyone interested will get full and complete information free by mailing the coupon below. There is no obligation and you make up your own mind if you want the plan. Act now! Tomorrow may be too late.

As Campaign Enters Final Stage

THE NEXT two weeks will be lively ones, not only in Mansfield and Richland county, but all over the country, as campaigning goes into full gear and oratory runs rampant —with each of the two major parties presenting claims of superiority for their candidates on the various levels of national, state, district and county.

Quite aside from the battle for the presidency, there is a sufficient number of contests to justify expectation of an exceptionally large total of votes, locally and generally.

While Ohio has no senatorial contest this year, congressional races are such as to hold interest in many districts, including the one of which Richland county is a part, and there are also a number of contests for county offices which give promise of showing close margins.

Although various polls seem to assure a Dewey victory in the presidential race, it is a commendable trait on the part of spokesmen for President Truman's candidacy that these are not being accepted as an accurate expression of majority voting intentions and they are proceeding on the basis that the outcome is uncertain.

This should tend to prevent any feeling of overconfidence which might result in some eligible voters neglecting to go to the polls, and should also overcome acceptance of an idea of assured defeat, which might also reduce the voting total.

The election to be held two weeks from tomorrow is a vitally important part in the functioning of self-government —and the "right" to vote is one which every American should regard not only as a precious privilege but also as a patriotic duty.

Your Community Chest Is Calling

THIS is the week during which five hundred Mansfield men and women put aside other things in order to give time to caring for their part of the work connected with conducting the Community Chest campaign for funds needed to assure maintenance of twelve essential services during the coming year.

Value of the Community Chest plan, which has been in effect in Mansfield for a number of years, is so generally recognized as to require no further emphasis. Year after year the co-operation of those who are able to give large or small amounts has been such as to express appreciation of this method of doing away with separate fund solicitations by each of the agencies that share in the Community Fund.

Now it is merely a matter of carrying through the general solicitation, with each giving willingly in accordance with ability.

The enthusiasm shown at this morning's "kick-off" breakfast, at which the drive for funds was launched, needs only an extension throughout the community to assure quick completion of the task—this year's goal being $122,635.

The true spirit of Mansfield and its people is well exemplified by the way in which workers and contributors respond to the call of the Community Chest.

Advantages of Gasoline Scarcity

NOW that summer is over some people might look back at it and regret that the feared shortage of gasoline for tourists did not develop. A general scarcity of gasoline has one good effect, it may be recalled from war days, it makes drivers more conservative, because conservative driving saves gasoline.

Numerous demonstrations have proved this. For instance in Cleveland recently four taxicabs made fuel consumption tests on a 20-mile trip through city traffic. Two drivers made careful starts and stops, adjusted their speed to the pace of traffic. The other two indulged in "cowboy" starts and stops, and raced at top legal speed as much as possible. The two "cowboys" saved five minutes on the trip, but used almost twice as much gasoline as the other two.

If the motorist apparently no longer must worry about obtaining gasoline, he still has the high price of it to think about.

Navy Establishes Racial Equality

IT IS REPORTED that the Navy has decided that elimination of racial segregation among its men is successful. This is not an overnight accomplishment, and appears to bear no relation to the election-year furore over civil rights. The change of policy in the Navy was begun during the war, and has been worked out in gradual steps over a period of four years.

Previously Negroes were recruited by the Navy only for the steward's branch, and the top rating in that branch was the upper limit of opportunity for them. In 1944 the first deviation from that policy was made when Negroes were trained for general service on two small ships with all-Negro crews. This experiment worked so well that mixed crews were tried at sea: again the results were good and the policy became common. Now segregated training has been discarded at the big Great Lakes training station, and the Navy regards elimination of segregation as virtually an accomplished fact.

It is by such patient and carefully directed efforts that racial inequalities will be supplanted by establishment of true civil rights. Little good can be accomplished by the mere passage or repeal of laws and regulations.

According to some students of the subject, unusual brightness may cause a child to fail in school, which is a comforting thought to some adults who had wondered how it happened to them.

As Claude Callan views it: "It will be well if we never have any more real good times. It takes a lot of hard work to clean up after a wild party."

Prediction: A lot of people who don't bother to vote are going to complain bitterly about the administration in the next four years.

One advantage of being at the bottom of the ladder is the slight danger of falling.

Variations In Overtime Pay Explained

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — This is an ABC on a new interpretation—by the U.S. Supreme Court—of the wage hour law.

The government begins enforcing it today. It sprang out of a case involving longshoremen. Before going further, remember the wage-hour law.

That law set up the 40-hour week for people working in places whose business or products cross state lines—places, that is, in interstate commerce.

Which means: in such places a worker gets regular pay for working 40 hours a week, plus time-and-one-half for every hour worked over 40 hours.

For example: Jones works eight hour a day, at $1 an hour, Monday through Friday, which is five days or a total of 40 hours. So his pay is $40.

That's a typical case. But suppose during those five days Jones was worked 48 hours.

Then with time-and-one-half for overtime, he gets $12 for his eight overtime hours. Adding that to his $40 for his regular 40 hours of work, he gets a total pay that week of $52.

That's the way it's done in many places. And there's no new interpretation in the wage-hour law on that.

But the new interpretation comes in on something that is called "premium" or "differential" pay.

That's when a boss pays a worker a little more than the regular rate of pay for working inconvenient hours, like nights, Saturdays or Sunday.

* * *

THIS works in several ways. Take them separately:

Example No. 1—Jones gets $40 for a regular 40-hour week. But in that plant the boss pays the man going to work at 5 p. m., a flat $4 extra for the week—premium pay for the unusual working hours.

If that night man works more than 40 hours a week, his time and one half pay for overtime is based on the total $44 he received, not on the regular $40.

Example No. 2—Some unions have put this into their contract with employers: Any man who has to work more than eight hours in any one day must get premium or extra pay for doing it.

The contract says the boss has to pay 25 cents an hour extra for any hour over eight hours in any one day.

Suppose Smith—getting $40 for a five-day, 40-hour week—works nine hours Tuesday but winds up the week working only 40 hours because Wednesday he worked only seven.

Then his total pay for the week is $40.25. That's because he gets the 25 cents premium pay for that one hour he worked Tuesday over his regular eight.

Suppose it happened that, by working one hour extra one day, he winds up the week with 41 hours. Then his total pay for the week is $40.50. How come?

His regular pay is $1 an hour. Time-and-one-half for overtime at that rate means 50 cents an hour more, or $1.50 for every overtime hour.

But he's already received 25 cents in the premium pay for that one hour extra he worked. So he has only 25 cents more due him to round out the overtime.

Example No. 3—Some bosses pay workers premium pay for work on Saturday or Sunday. But if a man works overtime by working Saturday and Sunday, he must be paid at overtime, not a lower premium, rate.

If a worker is only rounding out his 40-hour week by working Saturday and Sunday, the boss doesn't have to pay any more than the regular pay for other days, unless he's agreed to give premium pay for those two days.

But suppose a boss has agreed to that and one of his employes starts his week on Thursday. Then he gets his regular pay for Thursday and Friday, premium pay for Saturday and Sunday, regular pay for Monday, thus making 40 hours.

But say he has to work overtime in that week of his by working Tuesday and Wednesday, or 16 hours over his regular 40 hours.

Then the total money the worker received in the preceding 40 hours, including Saturday and Sunday premium days— is added together to first figure his average pay, then, work out his overtime pay.

Washington Calling

Skillful Campaigning

By MARQUIS CHILDS

ABOARD the Dewey Campaign Train—The shrewd managers of the Dewey campaign who named this train the Victory Special knew exactly what they were about. It is part of the atmosphere of success skillfully cultivated from the outset and which now glows like a technicolor sunrise.

But they might have given this highly efficient train an even more portentious name—they might have called it the Destiny Special. For over it hangs a large air of destiny and great events to come.

You can almost hear, offstage, a supercharged orchestra, playing Pomp and Circumstance or, even, Hail to the Chief. And, incidentally, a few local bands in their fine Republican zeal have anticipated events to greet Governor Dewey with the stirring anthem customarily reserved for the President of the United States.

A great deal has been written about the clockwork skill and the split-second timing with which this campaign is being run. It is made to sound at times as though it were a kind of mean trick to put over on the simple homespun rival who is telling the folks in county-fair style.

What this ignores is the origin and background of the skill. It should surprise no one that after six years as governor of New York and one previous contest for the presidency, the Dewey campaign moves like greased lightning. Or, it might be more accurate to say, greased lightning slowed to proper tempo for television cameras.

* * *

Albany Training School.

THE KEY is the New York governorship. Within the confines of the most populous and wealthy state in the union is every problem and every conflict—social, economic, racial.

The governor who learns to manage these problems has a running head-start for the presidency, both as administrator and politician.

There are striking parallels between Dewey and certain of his immediate predecessors in the governor's chair at Albany. Both Al Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt, developed the same skill in public management and the same adroitness in political campaigning.

There are striking differences, too. Al Smith retained the accent and something of the heartiness of his early days on the Fulton street fish wharves. Roosevelt was the Hudson Valley aristocrat, tempered by a brush with death and long invalidism.

Dewey has no strong individual personality stamp. This is one reason he is often called synthetic, an adjective his enemies sometimes applied to Roosevelt.

It is significant that Dewey is the first candidate for the presidency who was born in the twentieth century. This is pre-eminently the century of the advertising man, the publicist, the highly paid specialist in influence, and New York is the center of the influence industry. Small wonder, then, that around Dewey there should have developed a group of experts who synthesize his personality and his considerable skills.

In the very expertness of his campaign, he may be laying up future trouble for himself. His promises are general. They are broad enough to cover almost everyone. Issues are not specifically discussed.

But the time is coming on or about Jan. 21, when Dewey will have to begin making some tough decisions, it will not be possible to please almost everyone. The question is whether he will have prepared the public for what he must do when he becomes president.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Thursday, Oct. 18, 1928

Several parts of proposed zoning ordinance were adversely criticized during public hearing.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Davey, 77, died at her home, 71 Helen avenue.

Charles West of Denison university, Democratic nominee for congressman in this district, was speaker at Kiwanis club meeting.

Young Brothers opened hardware store at 224 Glessner avenue.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. McDonald, 144 West First street.

Maxwell Shauck, RD 7, was injured in auto collision on West Fourth street road.

Teachers in Richland county schools were advised that it was against the law to require pupils to do janitor work in school buildings.

AT LAST a real contribution to peace has been made. The new Sears-Roebuck catalogues have been delivered to Germany by the airlift. Now, there's a solid step for world accord! Nothing can take a fellow's mind off hatreds like a mail-order catalogue.

It's just impossible to work up a dislike for anybody while thumbing through one of these catalogues and nobody is as cold toward war as when he is runing over the pictures and price quotations on horse collars, auto robes, rubber boots, fishing tackle, iron stoves and long underwear.

Revercomb Runs Interference For Nazis

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It isn't hard to understand—when you know all the inside facts—why Governor Dewey has so carefully steered clear of helping Republican Senator Chappy Revercomb of West Virginia in his re-election fight.

Not only did Revercomb ram through Congress the Displaced Persons Act discriminating against Jews and Catholics, but on July 6, 1948, he telegraphed the Justice Department asking that some of the worst Nazis in the U. S. be kept in this country.

The justice department had ordered these Nazis deported, but, for reasons best known to himself, Senator Revercomb demanded that the deportation order be cancelled.

Here are some of the Nazis the Republican senator from West Virginia wanted kept in the U. S. A.:

Max Albrecht Blank—Indicted for conspiracy to commit espionage in the Duquesne case. Pleaded guilty to violating the Foreign Agents Act and was sentenced to eighteen months in jail. Also employed in the German Library of Information, a famous Nazi prop[aganda] in New [York].

Andreas [illegible]ch Jans and his wife, Emma—Visited by one of the eight Nazi saboteurs in Chicago when they arrived in this country by submarine. Jans and his wife were given $3,600 in cash by Nazi spy Neubauer for safe-[keeping].

Paul Knauer—The U. S. Supreme Court, ruling on his denaturalization, said on June 10, 1946: "There is solid, convincing evidence that Knauer before the date of his denaturalization and subsequently was a thoroughgoing Nazi and a faithful follower of Adolf Hitler."

Fritz Robert Koehler—Member of German Bund and employe of German [illegible] Los Angeles. During war he refused to work, saying he would not aid U. S. war effort.

Hartwig Reese—When arrested, the Nazi flag, swastikas, photographs of Hitler and Mussolini, and Fascist propaganda were found in his possession. He was leader of the German Bund in San Francisco.

Kurt Ludecke—Author of the book "I Knew Hitler," which was dedicated to Ernst Roehm, Gregor Strasser "and many other Nazis who were betrayed, murdered and traduced in their graves."

[The] of Nazis Senator Revercomb wanted kept in the U. S. A. is too [long] to be published here, and will be continued in a future column.

Red Tape Over Air.

VETERANS going into the air-freight business are still snarled in red tape, can't get government certification from the Civil Aeronautics Board. In formal hearings, the board has been lined up almost solidly behind the big airlines which are opposing the veterans.

One CAB member, Harold A. Jones, was so eloquent in expressing the big airlines' point of view that the grateful American Airlines counsel, Dan Gribbon, injudiciously let slip this remark in front of everyone:

"Mr. Jones, I don't think you could have put your company's policy into better words."

Jones coughed nervously, colored with embarrassment.

Note—The Air Force has announced the urgent need for building up an air-cargo fleet. Yet usually astute Seth Richardson, counsel for Northwest Airlines, testified: "This whole proceeding is inopportune. There may be need for an air-freight [industry five or ten] but not [now]."

* * *

Whisky Battle.

THE whisky industry, which has witnessed many a David and Goliath battle, is headed for another when the internal revenue bureau opens hearings today on the question [of] Scotch whisky made in the U. S. A.

The powerful Scotch whisky [Distillers] Corporation, Ltd.—claims that the word "Scotch" means made in Scotland, and that this word should be banned from the labels of all American-made Scotch.

If so, a small group of American distillers, led by the Scottish-American Distilling company, of Peoria, Ill., claim they will be driven to the wall. They are already suffering unfair restriction [when] to label their product "Scotch-type" whisky, they argue. This makes people think it is an imitation of the real product.

Big American distillers of bourbon are officially observing a pious neutrality, while secretly aligned with the Scotch importers. Lone exception is Hiram Walker, which has been producing some domestic Scotch.

The others — Schenleys, Seagram and National Distillers—all act as distributing agents of various [brands] of Scotch imports. So they would shed no tears if some of their American Scotch competition were killed off.

To fight their case Distillers Corporation, Ltd., have hired the biggest name-lawyer available—John W. Davis, once Democratic nominee for president.

Not to be outdone the U.S Scotch distillers have hired Joseph Nunan jr., former commissioner of internal revenue. It will be a merry fight.

THE University of Wisconsin seems to have fallen for some neat propaganda by the Wisconsin Power and Light company. The university's extension service is circulating a so-called "educational" film prepared by Wisconsin Power and Light which inferentially compares public power with Nazism . . . It is costing AFL leaders more than $20,000 to set up an independent labor committee to campaign for Truman and Barkley—largely because the Teamsters Union chief Dan Tobin blocked endorsement of the Democratic ticket inside the AFL executive council . . . The CIO has decided not to pull out of the World Federation of Trade Unions, to which the Russians also belong. Phil Murray feels that membership in the organization gives a loophole by which the CIO can get ideas behind the Iron Curtain.

Steel Bucks Allocations

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — A development here in the last few days serves to throw light anew on problems connected with steel, our great basic commodity, as measured in terms of increased and conflicting demands for essential domestic needs, for national defense and for the European Recovery Program.

It poses the question as to whether the leaders of this industry have been short-sighted again, as in the early days of our defense program before we entered the war, as to the potentials of our post-war economy.

Likewise it raises the question as to whether the present voluntary allocation system provided by Congress in an act that expires February 28, next year, may have to be supplanted by a mandatory law, as President Truman originally recommended, rather than by mere extension of the present voluntary system, in view of shortages and the problems that creates.

The development here that focused attention on the whole complicated problem was the action of the Steel Products Advisory committee, representing the industry, in accepting only one of nine new voluntary allocation agreements proposed by the Office of Industry Cooperation representing various government agencies that was set up by Congress to deal with allocations as part of the anti-inflation program.

Four proposals involving additional allocations for housing were rejected flatly, while decision on four others affecting additional steel for the oil and mining industry was postponed pending further study. The only one accepted authorized 10,000 tons of steel monthly during January and February for shipbuilding.

* * *

Consider Defense Needs

HITHERTO the steel industry had been cooperative in acceptance of ten voluntary agreements covering generally the fields of housing, transportation, petroleum and national defense and security, including atomic energy.

These agreements provide for allocation of nearly 500,000 tons of finished steel and steel products a month, which is about nine percent of total production.

The industry took the position that the proposed allocations which it rejected or postponed might cause further dislocations in view of the needs for national defense which can not presumably be accurately foretold.

At the meeting its representatives agreed to give priority to national defense requirements. They gave Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and the OIC assurances that, even if the law were not extended, they would continue after March 1 on an individual basis for six months any agreements affecting military needs, atomic energy and the national advisory committee on aeronautics made with OIC and approved by the attorney general as provided by law.

It is manifest, because of the near date for the expiration of the law and because of technical production problems, that the situation is in a sort of hiatus until Congress acts one way or another.

This problem, it would seem, will require the very early attention of Congress when it returns in January. Congress will be confronted with an immediate request for extension, at least, of the voluntary system which Secretary Sawyer tried in vain to get toward the end of the last Congress.

It would seem fair to ask, in view of all circumstances, whether somebody hasn't guessed wrong again on steel, as before, whether the steel industry is on the bearish side of the nation's future.

It is true, of course, that continuing military needs due to the tense international situation, and requirements for ERP, are perhaps to a degree added factors that could not properly be assessed, though astute planners could have made certain allowance in those areas.

General Thompson and Colonel Taubeneck strolled together down F Street in Washington during the last year of the war, and were called upon, naturally, to return the salutes of scores of enlisted men. Each time Colonel Taubeneck saluted he muttered, "The same to you." General Thompson's curiosity finally got the better of him and he inquired, "Why do you always mutter that asinine remark?" The colonel answered, "I was a private once myself, and I know what they are thinking."

Farmer's Diary

Autumn's Rich Coloring

By CALVIN A. BYERS

ALL SUMMER long I have been companion to the wild rose and the clover bloom. Have watched with delight the scarlet wood lilies push up tall and begin to unfold. Have cherished the violets by the woodland rill—their gentle manners and their modest gaiety.

The waves of grass came quietly creeping up the hill to swish across my feet. The fresh green leaves of the woodland whispered and sang. There was melody in the close-knit thorn. New life never came on the hill, but it overflowed over the valley.

The song of the thrush, the cuckoo's cry for rain, the urgent meadow lark, the cheerfully warbling bluebird, each had his moment when he brought joy to us all.

Now I might grieve that the summer friends are passing fast. Even the purple asters are prone upon the greenest clover. The violet by the woodland brook is smothered with falling leaves. The haggard goldenrod whitens and grows brash. One by one they pass until the snow shall come and cover them root and stem.

The hills are vivid with crimson and yellow gold. The sky is very blue, and the thistle down skims above the sheen of the floating webs.

The tender green wheat contrasts with the brown newly cultivated soil, making patches of vivid emerald and russet where the fields and the woods come together.

Streams move slowly. Milk weed pods are perched askew upon their stems, waiting for a few more frosts to burst and parachute their seeds over all the countryside. The downy thistle and the purple bloom are side by side upon the same stem. Thistles are rich lovely flowers at this time of year.

It will be another year before these sights come again. But there is a deep, certain joy in the changes that Nature brings. And, around the year, on a farm, earth is crammed with heaven, and every common bush is alive with God.

Even the snows of winter can never withstand the warmth of spring. They melt and merge and become a part of the next summer's glorious growth. Every day is new, every season is progress, every year is another turn of the wheel of Time.

Mrs. Kasenkina's Story—No. 23

Finds Life's Cruel Ou Foundation Farm

By OKSANA S KASENKINA
(Edited by Isaac Don Levine)

I had longed for an American atmosphere when I broke away from my Soviet guardians, but I was plunged into a stifling Russian atmosphere when I settled down at the Reed Farm of the Tolstoy Foundation.

Despite the angelic character of Countess Alexandra Tolstoy who unfortunately was away most of the time at her New York offices I found myself under suspicion and surveillance at the institution this time as a Soviet spy!

It is with deep pain that I am describing this interlude of my critical days from Saturday July 31 to Saturday August 7 I value highly the great humanitarian work being carried on by the Tolstoy Foundation for the relief of the helpless Russian DPs in Europe and America and hope to be of help in this sacred cause when I recover

Yet I cannot hold back the truth about the conditions that drove me to write my impulsive letter to the Soviet consul general which eventually led to my seizure by him and his aides and to my imprisonment in the consulate

★

Upon my arrival at the farm, Countess Tolstoy and Vladimir Zensinoz who had brought me there, examined my passport and found that my visa to remain in the United States was valid for some time

Miss Tolstoy then told me that she would get in touch with the proper authorities to insure my continued legal residence in this country. We had a heart to heart talk and I was installed in a comfortable room for the night.

I was given an assumed name under which I was to live on the farm Miss Tolstoy also cautioned me not to discuss my affairs and to do as little talking as possible There were close to a hundred inmates in the place of both sexes and of all ages and stations in life Most of them had left Russia in the first refugee wave after the Bolshevik Revolution some thirty years ago and included members of the nobility and the old military class

★

I became an object of instant curiosity especially when I was transferred the following day to the screened porch which I shared with the supervisor of the establishment, Martha Andreevevna Knutson, an experienced and admirable social worker I was assigned to work in the kitchen

Looking back upon the events of those days I now realize that I had arrived at the farm in a highly nervous state I should have begged off from unaccustomed toil until I had had a rest I knew that my not showing up at the sailing of the Soviet ship would lead to a widespread hunt for me The drudgery in the mass production kitchen, whether it was peeling potatoes or shelling eggs was irritating I would have preferred a factory job

One day Mrs Knutson even remarked to me "I can see you're not used to kitchen chores Who took care of you all your life?"

"I've been a teacher all my life," I replied, "and the kitchen was not one of my specialties." To myself I kept saying "This is hard work but at least you're out of Soviet hands."

The inmates began to eye me suspiciously Every evening they would gather on the veranda and engage in political discussions I did not participate in them true to Miss Tolstoy's instructions My silence gave rise to significant glances

There were many in the assemblage who did not speak the democratic language of Mark Weinbaum, of the Novoye Russkoye Slovo, the Russian newspaper, or of Zenzinov, or of Miss Tolstoy herself.

These people had inspired me with confidence because of their liberalism My dream had always been a democratic Russia I was now forced to listen mostly to talk of a restoration of the monarchy after the collapse of the Soviet regime This antediluvian palaver grated upon me, but I could not answer it

Then there was constant bickering and wrangling among the habitues of the institution Everybody watched everybody else Quarrels over petty matters were common Those who had titles or rank in the long ago demanded that they be accorded privileged treatment

The atmosphere around me grew more icy every day There was eavesdropping and finally unconcealed whispering in my path When I retired at night, and it was during a cold spell I would lie on the porch chilled to the bone and wracked by insomnia This seemed so unlike the America I had yearned to discover

My unhappiness gave way to despair when I spotted one day the Soviet consul's black limousine not far from the farm and his fat chauffeur Semashko sitting on a bench some distance away I was ridiculed for 'seeing things' when I reported this but I am convinced to this day that I was right From many remarks dropped later at the consulate I am confirmed in the belief that the Soviet sleuths had detailed inside knowlege of the Tolstoy Foundation farm.

By Wednesday, Aug. 4, my situation became most trying. Everybody was looking daggers at me, regarding me as an enemy within their camp. I was made to feel that beneath my assumed name was luring a Soviet agent

That evening the manager of the institution Moussin Pushkin, called me into his office and began to shout at me

'Register' No one can stay here overnight without registering"

I thought that my status had been settled by Miss Tolstoy but was helpless in the face of Moussin Pushkin's stormy scene That night was a complete nightmare to me 'Was I in a madhouse or was I going mad?' I was asking myself again and again Did I escape from Soviet surveillance to be suspected of being a Soviet spy?

I dashed off a letter to the Soviet consul general which, contrary to all reports, I did not show to anyone before having it mailed I left the farm and walked down the road stopping the first car going in the direction of town

I handed the letter and half a dollar to the motorist, requesting him to post it for me The stranger was good enough to give me back 47 cents in change

When I returned to the kitchen, after the car carrying my letter had vanished I felt pangs of remorse, although I did not fully realize to what extent that letter would haunt me

WESTBROOK HARVEST PARTY; BOWLERS DANCE

Women's Bowling Association Sponsors Charity Ball; Country Club Party Gala.

By ANN SCHOENMAN

TWO GALA AFFAIRS took place Saturday night. One was held at Westbrook Country club and the other at the Richland Recreation Center.

The Harvest Dinner dance was held at the country club with 120 guests in attendance.

Dinner was served between 7 and 9:30 p. m. at tables centered with fruit and vegetable arrangements, in keeping with the Halloween season. Red candles lighted the tables, covered with red and white checked table cloths.

Bouquets of mixed fall flowers were placed throughout the club house.

Nels Blocker and his orchestra played for dancing from 9:30 to 1:30 o'clock.

The hosts for this affair were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Orr jr., Mr and Mrs. J. H Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Endriss

A bonus party will be held Saturday, Oct 30 at the country club This season's finale will be a Halloween costume dance from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

A midnight snack will be served to the guests.

Fred Seckler's band from Canton will furnish the music for dancing.

Prizes are to be awarded for the best costumes. The committees in charge of this party will be Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hedeen, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blahnik and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ward.

On this same evening the members of the Mansfield Women's Bowling association sponsored a dance, "The Bowling Ball," at Richland Recreation Center.

Four hundred members and guests were present for dancing to the music of Tommy Van and his orchestra.

Yellow, green and red crepe paper decorated the ballroom

During the evening Ted Lutz was introduced by Mrs. Ray Shivley, general chairman. He expressed appreciation to the members of the bowling association and their friends for the support given to this first dance.

The members have planned to make this dance an annual affair. Proceeds are given to Bowlers Victory Legion, for the benefit of hospitalized veterans.

Thomas Losee, left, Mrs. Paul Endriss, Mrs. Thomas Losee and Paul Endriss are shown top left at the Westbrook Country Harvest Dinner dance held Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Losee, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Endriss, hosts for the affair, are from Westward Ho, Hempstead, Long Island. Mrs. Losee models as Miss Harriet Hood in the current issue of Life magazine.

James Hoffman, Mrs. Hoffman, hosts for the party, Mrs. Garry Valk and Mr. Valk are seated in the entrance way of Westbrook before going into the ballroom for the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Valk, of Cleveland, were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Endriss. Mrs. Valk is a former model for leading magazines in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lutz are shown at the door of the Richland Recreation before the Women Bowlers' association dance. Mrs. H. R. Southworth, ticket committee, Harvey Anderson, manager of the Recreation Center, Mrs. Ray Shivley, general chairman, and Miss Sally Foster, ticket committee, are pictured left to right at the ticket table.

Philomathians Open Season At Black Home

The opening meeting of the Philomathian club was held recently at the home of Mrs Donald Black, Marion avenue road.

Dinner was served at a table centered with a chrysanthemum floral arrangement. Twenty-one members were in attendance.

Miss Helen Hartman was welcomed as a new member.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening with the prizes going to Mrs. Paul Stephens, Mrs. Otis Cummins, Mrs Martin Brunner and Mrs Deming Lowrey.

On October 20th the meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Tom Mowrey, Andover road, with Mrs Brunner in charge of the program.

Mrs. Charles Siegenthaler will be hostess when the club members tour Tappan's on November 3.

The book, "The Heart of the Matter," will be reviewed by Mrs. Black on November 17 with Mrs. John Bissman as the hostess.

For a preview of the future Mrs. Fred Hout will give a program on "Life in 1960." Mrs. Lewis Hartman is the hostess for this session on December 1.

The new year will be opened with a meeting on January 5 with Miss Helen Hartman as hostess. Mrs. Gilbert Dobson will give "A Forecast of Forty Niners."

"Cuisine Curiosities" will be the subject of Mrs. W. W. Grant's program on January 19 Mrs Merrill Manz jr. will be the hostess.

Mrs. N. S White has chosen "Retailing Glamorized" for her program on February 2 at the home of Mrs. Tom Siegenthaler.

Mrs. John Green will be the guest speaker for the February 16 meeting. Mrs Richard Tappan and Mrs. Paul Stephens will be associate hostesses for the guest meeting.

Mrs. James Eberly will be hostess for the March 2 meeting. "From Whence Our Wallpaper" will be given by Mrs. Lewis Hartman.

Mrs. Shawk's Museum will be the March 16 meeting program. Mrs. Otis Cummins is the hostess.

The closing meeting of the year will be March 30 The committee for this final party is Mrs. Oliver Henkel, hostess, Mrs. Fred Greenwood, chairman, Mrs. Tom Ford, Mrs. Jay Small and Mrs. M. K. Leggett.

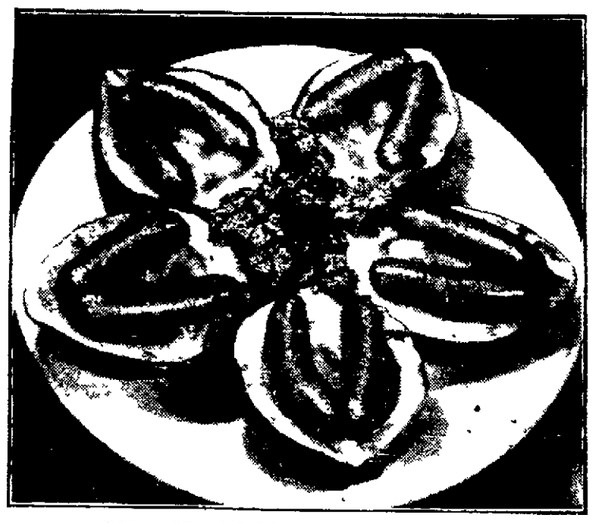
For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may anticipate a happy, prosperous and fruitful year, with many pleasant activities in which home and personal life may engage the attention, enhancing social prestige and popularity All forms of business accenting such interests should flourish and give pleasure Artistic and cultural ambitions should thrive, with credit and increased assets available Cultivate friendships under such reigns and find keen enjoyment through charm, personal magnetism and cultural contacts

A child born on this day should be happily gifted for a successful, happy and prosperous career, in which its personality and charm supplement excellent talents and skills



SAUSAGE AND FRUIT ACORN SQUASH

Nothing could be more fall-like than sizzling pork sausage links and acorn squash. Nothing tastes better than a combination of the two except, perhaps if the flavor of the sausage and squash is augmented by a fruit cocktail sauce

These attractive main course treats are perfect conversation pieces even though they are so simple to prepare Merely cut the squash in half, remove the seeds, and bake in a hot oven (400°F.) cut side down on a baking dish for about 30 minutes or until almost tender. Then turn the squash over and fill the cavity with well-drained canned fruit cocktail. Sprinkle brown sugar over the fruit and top with two sausage links. Return to the oven for about 25 minutes. If you turn the links once halfway through the cooking period they will brown evenly.

With the pork sausage and squash serve baked tomatoes, a green vegetaable and a tossed

Canned salmon, used for a sandwich filling or for a canape spread, benefits from a dash of sugar added along with the salad dressing and other seasonings

Steel 'Rationing' Stands 50-50 Chance In Congress, Belief

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Buyers of major steel products who have not already covered their requirements for the fourth quarter stand little chance of placing further tonnage with the mills for shipment this year, the magazine Steel reported today.

"From all consuming quarters," the Trade Journal said, "are heard cries of more steel with voluntary allocations to preferred programs cutting severely into available supplies of certain products."

"Talk is heard increasingly of possible application of mandatory allocations after the turn of the year. Complaints from consumers of inability to obtain metal have been registering with congressmen, and thinking in Washington now leans to the view that allocations for steel stand a 50-50 chance of adoption after the 81st Congress convenes."

Production of steel is being pushed at a record-breaking pace, said Steel. In the first nine months of this year more steel was produced than ever before in peace time. The total output for the period was only two per cent less than was produced in all of 1946.

Steelmaking operations equalled the 1948 high last week, rising one point to 98 per cent of capacity. On a tonnage basis, the schedule called for the production of about 1,775,000 net tons, the largest weekly output since mid-May, 1944.

The ingot rate last week rose 6½ points to 98.5 per cent at Cleveland and ½ point to 95.5 per cent at Pittsburgh. However, the rate eased 1½ points to 89.5 per cent in the St. Louis district. Other district rates were unchanged from a week ago.
